OCT. 4TH. IS DATE SET TO HEAR T. R.

Roosevelt Will Appear at that Time Before Senate Committee

PROMINENT MEN SUBPOENAED

Leaders In All Industries Will Testify At the Investigation of Campaign Contributions Which Begins Monday

Washington, Sept. 25.—After a telephone conference today with Oscar K. Davis, of the New York headquarters, Senator Clapp announced that Friday, October 4th, would be set by the Senate Committee investigating campaign expenditures for the appearance of Colonel Roosevelt. The hearings will begin next Monday, as has been planned. Senator Clapp was unable to say today whether the examination of Colonel Roosevelt would take more than one day.

Subpoenas have been sent to New York by a Senate sergeant-at-arms for service upon General Counsel Elliott and the secretary of the Standard Oil Company in connection with the investigation of John D. Archbold's statements that he contributed $100,000 to the Roosevelt fund of 1904 in behalf of the Standard Oil Company. The two officials are required to produce any papers they may have bearing upon the transaction, the committee having called them in an effort to discover the receipt which Mr. Archbold said had been given him by Cornelius N. Bliss, then treasurer of the Republican National Committee.

Senator Clapp made public today the names of the majority witnesses who are to be heard by the committee. The list includes J. P. Morgan, H. C. Frick, Elbert H. Gary, George W. Perkins, William R. Hearst, Thomas F. Ryan, former Senator Chauncey M. Depew, William Loeb, Jr., George B. Cortelyou, Alton B. Parker, George R. Sheldon, Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr., and C. G. Tegethoff, all of whom have been mentioned as probable witnesses.

The broad character of the investigation that is to be made to determine whether campaign contributions have influenced tariff legislation, is indicated in the character of the witness. Among them are William Whitman and William M. Wood, of Boston, two leading figures in the woolen industry; Edward F. Greene, J. R. MacColl, Charles R. Grundy, Bristol, Pa.; B. F. Jones, Jr., a steel manufacturer of Pittsburg; Henry L. Towne, of New York; John Kirby, Dayton, Ohio, and Fred Schwedtman and D. P. Challenger, of St. Louis. All are manufacturers or interested in important industries.

Although his name is not on the list, Daniel G. Reid, a leading figure in the tin plate and steel industry, is also to be asked to appear before the committee. Wayne MacVeagh, a former Attorney General of the United States and brother of Secretary MacVeagh, of the Treasury Department, has also been asked to appear.

It is also understood that the specific purpose for summoning J. Pierpont Morgan and Mr. MacVeagh is to question them regarding the charges made by Charles Edward Russell, Socialist candidate for Governor in New York, that Mr. Morgan had been asked by Colonel Roosevelt to contribute a certain amount to his campaign fund in 1904. Both Mr. Morgan and Mr. McVeagh have denied the report.

David E. Thompson, of Lincoln, Neb., former Minister to Mexico; Chancellor James R. Day, of Syracuse University; Governor Foss, of Massachusetts; Judge C. H. Duell, of New York, and E. T. Stotesbury, of New York, who is said to have collected Republican contributions in Philadelphia, have been added to the committee list. Those who will be asked to explain the sources of campaign funds this year and the method of their expenditure, include: Senator Dixon, Ormsby McHarg and Treasurer E. H. Hooker, of the National Progressive party for Colonel Roosevelt; H. L. Nichols, for Governor Harmon; Representative McKinley for President Taft; former Senator F. T. DuBois for Champ Clark; Senator Bankhead for Representative Underwood; Representative McCombs for Governor Wilson.

The only members of the House of Representatives thus far asked to testify are former Speaker Cannon, Representative McKinley, Representative Weeks, of Massachusetts and Representative Palmer, of Pennsylvania, but it is expected that others will appear before the committee concludes its hearings.

Roosevelt Stops Campaigning for a Day, and Talks Waterways.

REFERS ONCE TO POLITICS

Tells Crowd in Rear Platform Speech They Ought to Belong to the Progressive Party—Speaks at Memphis Today.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 25.—Colonel Roosevelt dropped his campaign today and talked deeper waterways and bear hunting instead. The Presidential nominee spent most of the day in Little Rock, Arkansas and came to Memphis tonight. It was a rainy, depressing day. The colonel was fatigued when he arrived here and went to his room.

There was one brief reference to politics, however, during the day. When he was on his way from Little Rock to Memphis the colonel went out to his platform at a stop to greet half a hundred persons who had gone into the rain to see him as he passed through. He talked to them for a moment.

"You ought to belong to the Progressive party," he said, "if for no other reason than because we are trying to abolish boss rule." He said that the Presidential nomination had been taken by theft, "and when I say theft," he added, "I speak with scientific accuracy. I use the word in its most offensive meaning."

When Col. Roosevelt reached Memphis a crowd was waiting for him at the station, but he hurried on to his hotel, went to the elevator and disappeared.

The crowd followed into the lobby and cheered. After the cheering had continued for five minutes Major Gen. J. H. McDowell, commander of the United Confedcrate Veterans of Tennessee, appeared and told the crowd that Col. Roosevelt needed to rest and would not make a speech. The cheering went on the more loudly. After another five minutes Major McDowell appeared again. This time the crowd would not listen. Five minutes more and Col. Roosevelt capitulated. He came out on the balcony, thanked the crowd and added: "Now I want to act as town crier myself. If there are any of the crowd I went bear hunting with here I want to see them. I want them to come right up and talk about Bars."

The bear hunters were there and Col. Roosevelt sat up for another hour talking over his famous bear hunt in Tennessee when he was President. He spent two weeks on the hunt without seeing a bear. In desperation the hunters corraled a tame bear and placed it where the President would find it. But the President refused to shoot. He said he knew enough about bears to tell a tame one when he saw it.

Col. Roosevelt will make a non-partisan speech in the morning before the Inter-State Levee Association here.

HEARING POSTPONED.

Petitions Would Declare Hilton Lumber Co., Road Common Carrier.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 25.—Insisting that the Corporation Commission has ample power to do so if the commission will only exercise it, petitioners are taking steps to go into the courts and undertake to compel the commission to declare the lumber road of the Hilton Lumber Co., in Duplin county, a common carrier and provide depot facilities at Pinhook and siding facilities at a terminus of the rpad near Magnolia. The commission some weeks ago made an order taking the ground that the Commission cannot compel a railroad to become a common carrier and really has no jurisdiction as to regulating a road until it voluntarily becomes a common carrier or is made so by the Legislature. The Commission was to have heard exceptions today to this position, but E. K. Bryan, representing the Hilton Lumber Company, could not be here and H. L. Stevens, attorney for the petitioners agreed to a postponement.

A charter was issued today for the Stanley Ginning Co., of Gaston county, capital $5,000 authorized and $1,500 subscribed by C. B. and M. A. Carpenter and others for operating cotton gin, cotton oil mill and other plants.

SEMINOLE AT CORE BANKS.

Cutter Went There to Aid Large Brigantine in Distress.

Beaufort, N. C., Sept. 25.—The revenue cutter Seminole left Wilmington today to aid the unidentified brigantine anchored in distress about two miles south of the Core Banks life saving station. The cutter was due at the scene about 10 o'clock tonight. Latest reports said the brigantine was dangerously near the breakers. The heavy seas have tossed her back toward the south, which places her precariously near the beach. Earlier in the day one of the vessel's boats came ashore, bringing some of the crew. They went to the life saving station. If the vessel is in condition to be towed when the Seminole arrives she will be taken to the nearest harbor. Otherwise she will stand by and give such aid as is necessary.

CHEERING THRONGS GREET GOV. WILSON

New England People Accord Democratic Nominee a Royal Welcome

TALKS ON DIRECT PRIMARY

The Governor Defines Progressiveism And Declares He Is a Progressive—He Is Introduced as The Next President

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 25.—Governor Woodrow Wilson admittedly went further today toward defining his ideas on progressive principles than he has since he became the Democratic Presidential nominee. In a speech that was received with enthusiasm at Hartford and another at New Haven tonight, the Governor explained that he favored the initiative and the referendum as well as the recall of administrative officers, but that he was unqualifiedly opposed to the recall of the judiciary.

The Democratic nominee illustrated some of the points in his speech, which included comment on the direct primary system and the direct election of United States Senators by references to political conditions on the Pacific coast. He said later that these references to California did not contemplate the presence in Hartford and New Haven today of Governor Johnson, of California.

"If I did not believe that to be progressive was to preserve the essentials of our institutions, I for one, could not be progressive," said Governor Wilson in his Hartford speech.

After paying tribute to the character of the majority of the men in the United States Senate, the Governor said:

"It would be painful to repeat to you some of the processes by which seats have been bought in the United States Senate and you know as the whole people of the United States know, that a little group of Senators holding the balance of power has again and again been able to defeat programmes of reform upon which the whole country had set its heart."

Governor Wilson declared in discussing the question of popular election of Senators that "We have had many shameful instances of practices which we can absolutely remove by the direct election of Senators by the people themselves.

"I hope you won't, any of you, think that I am going too far in even mentioning in your presence those extreme doctrines of the initiative, the referendum and the recall," continued Governor Wilson. "It is the last word that makes most men shrink. Let no man deceive himself by the fallacy that anybody proposes to substitute direct legislation by the people or a direct reference of laws voted in the Legislature by the vote of the people for representative government.

"It is another matter when it comes to the judiciary. I myself have never been in favor of the recall of judges. Not that some judges haven't deserved to be recalled—that isn't the point. But because that is treating the symptoms instead of the disease. The disease lies deeper and sometimes it is very, very virulent and very dangerous. There have been courts in the United States that were controlled by private interests. There have been supreme courts in our States at which men without privilege could not get justice. There have been corrupt judges; there have been controlled judges. There have been judges who acted as other men's servants and not as the servants of the public.

"And there can be no moral objection to removing such men from public service.

"If, mark you, I say, if—at any time the Southern Pacific Railroad owned the Supreme Court of the State of California what was the trouble? Would you remedy it by recalling the judges of the Supreme Court of California? Not so long as the Southern Pacific Railroad could substitute others for them. You would not be cutting deep enough; where you want to go is to the seat of authority. Where you want to go is the process by which those judges were picked out. And when you get there you lead to the moral of the whole of this whole discussion, because the moral of it all is that the people of the United States have suspected until their suspicions have been justified by all sorts of substantial and unanswerable evidence that in place after place, at turning point after turning point, in the history of this country, we have been controlled by private understandings and not by the public interest and that influences which were improper if not corrupt have determined everything from the making of laws to the administration of justice."

Governor Wilson declared in conclusion that corruption which grows like "a cancer in our vitals must be cut out, though I grant you it must be cut out with the skill and the knowledge and the tenderness of the surgeon who will not disturb the vital tissues to which this ugly thing is attached."

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 25.—Governor Woodrow Wilson's invasion of New England today was marked by cheering throngs at every place he visited. During the afternoon Gover-

MARSHALL FLAYED THE THIRD PARTY

Governor Severely Arraigned Roosevelt and Senator Beveridge.

THE INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT

He Declared Col. Roosevelt Fastened Its Power on the People by His Action in Tennessee Coal & Iron Case.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 25.—A caustic criticism of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, and the Progressive party was delivered here today by Governor Marshall, Democratic Vice Presidential candidate.

Governor Marshall charged that Col. Roosevelt as President "fastened the powers of invisible government upon the people" by his action regarding the absorption of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company by the United States Steel Corporation. By this act Governor Marshall said Col. Roosevelt violated every precedent of the Republic.

Governor Marshall discussed at length the "invisible government," which former Senator Beveridge outlined in his speech as temporary chairman of the Progressive National Convention.

"The invisible government," he said, "is no new discovery for the Democrat. That is the government the Democrat has been fighting for more than two decades. He was fighting this menace to good government and righteousness during all of the years that Theodore Roosevelt and Albert J. Beveridge did not know of its existence."

Governor Marshall declared that the danger of the invisible government lay in its power to collect invisible taxes through the tariff law.

"These gentlemen who are now assaulting the 'invisible government'," he said, "are the gentlemen who gave it the power to collect taxes and they do not now propose that this power of invisible taxation shall cease. The Democrat is a true progressive. He proposes to take away this power of invisible taxation and when that has been done the 'invisible government' will naturally cease to exist. It is not worth while to rail against an evil and at the same time furnish that evil with the very sustenance that keeps it alive."

Marconi was brought back to this city and placed in a hospital suffering from a wound of the right eye, and his right cheek and temple were badly bruised. His body also was severely bruised. SAYS JONES SPENT $108,000

Jno. T. Duncan, Candidate for Governor in S. C. Primaries, Charges Judge With Spending This Amount in Election.

Spartanburg, S. C., Sept. 25.—When the sub-committee of the State Democratic Executive Committee, appointed to investigate the charges of fraud in the recent primary election met this morning, John T. Duncan, a candidate for Governor, who received only about 3,000 votes, submitted an affidavit in which he alleged that in the last week of the campaign $108,000 was spent in the interest of Judge Ira B. Jones, the candidate who ran second in the race. In some precincts, Mr. Duncan asserted, from $10 to $16 each was paid for votes for Jones.

The committee asked Mr. Duncan if he was prepared to give names and places. He replied that he would furnish them shortly.

Another charge made by Duncan was that 17 residents of Georgia, employed by the Greenville, Spartanburg & Anderson Railway, voted for Judge Jones in Greenville county.

W. B. Wilson, Jr., chairman of a sub-committee named to investigate the election in the eastern counties, reported that irregularities had been found in a number of places. In the large counties of Charleston and Richland the investigation has not yet been concluded.

The committee adopted a resolution calling upon the managers of the election in Spartanburg county, where 600 cases either of repeating or identity of name have been discovered, to make affidavit in regard to these cases.

The committee left this afternoon for Greenville to take testimony there as to fraud in Greenville county. A session will also be held in Anderson. It is proposed to return to Spartanburg on Saturday.

Wholesale Evidence of Fraud.

Greenville, S. C., Sept. 25.—Evidence which, upon its face, indicates grossest fraud being practiced in Greenville county in the primary of August 27th, was placed before the sub-committee of the South Carolina Democratic Executive Committee at a brief session held in the court house here this afternoon.

A local committee which has been conducting an investigation in Greenville county reported that repetitions of names on polling lists had been found in 340 instances, and that the names were repeated anywhere from one to five times each, which indicates that 340 men voted anywhere from two to five times each in the primary.

The committee further reported that

WILSON VICTORY IN JERSEY

Plurality of Over 20,000 in State Primaries Tuesday—Senator Smith Defeated by a Decisive Vote. The Republicans.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 25.—That Governor Wilson won a sweeping victory in the New Jersey primaries was evident from returns received here early today. In his fight to prevent the nomination for United States Senator of former Senator James Smith, Jr., Governor Wilson carried the State by a plurality of nearly 20,000, winning in every county except Essex, the stronghold of the Smith forces.

Returns from 511 of the 1,799 districts in the State gave Representative William Hughes, the Wilson Senatorial candidate 17,020 votes to 1,750 for Smith.

Even Essex county, which includes the city of Newark, did not pile up for Senator Smith the overwhelming vote which he had expected to receive from his nighbors and townspeople. With a few districts missing, the vote in Essex showed Smith only about 1,000 ahead of his opponent. On the other side was Hudson county with an indicated Hughes' plurality of 8,000 in Mercer county with a Hughes plurality of 1,600.

The Morning Star, owned by Mr. Smith, conceded the election of Hughes. Later the Wilson candidate issued the following statement from his home in Paterson:

"The vote is an absolute expression of the policies of Governor Wilson. On this basis I submitted my candidacy to the people and they supported me admirably. The victory for Woodrow Wilson seems now assured at the November election."

It is believed that practically all the Wilson candidates for nomination throughout the State outside of Essex county were successful.

On the Republican side the primaries were uneventful. Senator Frank I. Briggs received an uncontested endorsement.

The Progressives did not figure in the voting except in Hudson county, where they defeated the regular organization. In other sections of the State they will nominate by petition.

The total Democratic vote was estimated at about 70,000. The plurality for Hughes was estimated as running anywhere between 20,000 and 30,000.

New York, Sept. 25.—When Governor Wilson left for Hartford today he was asked:

"What about the primary result in New Jersey?"

"Is anybody surprised?" replied the Governor.

TAFT ATTENDS THE ALTOONA MEETING

President Principal Speaker at War Governors Celebration

DIGRESSES ON PROSPERITY

Mr. Taft Refers to the Bountiful Crops About to Be Harvested—Will Hold Political Conference With Hilles

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 25.—President Taft was the principal speaker today at Altoona's celebration of the 50th anniversary of the meeting here of the Loyal War Governors who decided that Abraham Lincoln and his war policy should be upheld and his call for more troops should be met promptly with volunteers.

Through that meeting and those which followed, the President declared that there entered into the soul of Lincoln the feeling "that he had a nation behind him and that the cause he was engaged in was worthy of their lives and their fortunes, and also the high resolve that he proposed to fight out the battle and bring back the erring sisters into the Union."

The 14 Loyal Governors, who supported Lincoln in the dark days of '62, the President called heroes who did not advertise the deeds they were about to do, who made no use of "buts" and "ifs" but who said "we'll" see you through."

The President's speech dealth almost entirely with the conferences of the war Governors, but he reserved a sentence or two for prosperity talk.

Discussing prosperity the President said: "One hundred millions of people, 90 millions between the oceans and 10 millions in our ocean dependencies, constitute our population, and today right in the harvest time we are garnering crops that make possible the greatest prosperity that ever faced this country and we are today where every man and every woman can have work if they will, when wages are the highest and the individual happiness of every one averages higher than ever before. I dwell on that fact today, borne in upon me by the procession of beautiful children that filed by me this morning, evidencing happy, comfortable homes, and moral teaching in the schools and in the homes. It is because this is the 50th anniversary of a day as different in respect of the happiness of our people and of the prospect before them as day is from night. Fifty years ago tonight we were in the throes of rebellion, the like of which had never been seen in the world before and I hope may never be seen in the world again.

The President left late today for Beverly. He expected Chairman Hilles of the Republican National Committee, to board his private car at Harrisburg and make the journey north to help him discuss New England politics with Republican leaders there.

The President spoke today within the canvass walls of a big tent. Although the weather had been threatening all day, the crowd was large and applauded frequently. Mr. Taft was introduced by Governor Tener, of Pennsylvania.

MAKES GOOD HIS THREAT

Charles Smith Refuses to Be Taken Alive—Killed by Officers

Lake Charles, La., Sept. 25.—Making good his threat that he would not be taken alive, Charles Smith, alias "Leather Breeches," accredited a desperate character about the lumber camps in this section, was shot and killed today near Merryville by Deputy Sheriff Charlan.

Smith was one of 57 men under indictment here for inciting a riot when three men were killed and 37 men injured in a pitched battle between union and non-union men at the Galloway Lumber Company's plant.

Smith was armed with a rifle and two pistols when he fell a victim to the aim of Officer Charlan. When ordered to halt, Smith turned and threw his rifle to his shoulder, but Charlan was the quicker and put two loads of buckshot into Smith's body. Smith came here from Texas.

All of the men indicted in connection with the riot, with the exception of Smith, are in jail here. The charges against the prisoners, who are members of the Brotherhood of Timber Workers, embrace rioting, murder and conspiracy. The cases are set for trial October 5th.

Judge Martin A. Knapp, of the Commerce Court, and Dr. Charles P. Neill, Commissioner of Labor, mediators under the Erdman Act, heard both parties to the controversy. It has been expected that a final settlement would be reached today, but tonight the parties apparentwere still far from an agreement.

SAYS TEAMS ARE EVEN

Jimmy Collins Can't See Advantage for Giants or Red Sox

(Special to Washington Post).

Boston, Sept. 24.—"It pleased me to learn that the Red Sox had won the American League pennant," said Jimmy Collins, manager and third baseman of the Boston American world champions of 1903, and of the American League in 1904.

"The Sox have waged a most consistent battle, which is perhaps one of the steadiest winning campaigns in the history of the American League. The Sox showed an evenly balanced machine, with a clever pitching staff. The Washington team, of which I am scout, gave our boys a pretty battle for a time, but the Red Sox refused to come through with the slump generally expected outside of Boston."

Asked what he thought of the world's series between the Sox and the Giants, Collins declared: "I think it is an even thing. All this talk about the great superiority of the Boston team sounds well to fans in this city, but you have got to show me where they are going to have any cinch.

"The Red Sox are a faster team than New York, but they have not the experienced players McGraw can show. They have been through one series, and this counts for a whole lot. Looking at it from any angle, I can't see anything but a toss up between Boston and New York.

"In discussing the world's series prospects one will always hear Joe Wood's name mentioned frequently. I don't doubt Wood's gameness for a second. The little fellow proved he was there in that great game with Johnson. I do claim, however, that the strain of the present record run of Wood's will not do the young crack any good in the tough series he faces next month."

CHINESE TROOPS MUTINY

Attack City of Wu Chang—Thousands Are Starving

Peking, Sept. 25.—The troops encamped outside the gates of Wu Chang, capital of the province of Hu-Peh, mutinied last night and attacked the city. The troops numbered several hundred and were composed for the most part of cavalry. A strong force of General Li Huen Yen's regiment immediately engaged the rebels and after several hours of fierce fighting dispersed them. The casualty list is not known, but two officers were executed for failing to divulge their knowledge of the movement. It is believed that the attacking party only intended to loot the city. Pathetic conditions prevail throughout the country. Occasionally detachments of soldiers engage in wanton destruction. Trade is greatly hampered an dthousands of persons are dying from starvation who could be saved by the employment of a few foreign engineers.

Bell declared he had no accomplices in taking the money from the bank or in returning it to the back door of the bank, where it was found by the negro janitor. His bond was fixed at $5,000.

Boston, Sept. 25.—A report favoring the movement initiated by the Belgian government to harmonize the tabulations of the world's commercial statistics was endorsed by a report presented to the Fifth International Commercial Congress today by Eugene Allard, president of the Belgian Chamber of Commerce of Paris.

The report says, in part:

"At this time of tariff changes, when each endeavors to justify the economic system which he supports, more and more recourse is had, in business as well as official circles to the results shown by the customs statistics from which to draw conclusions and to support theories for the influence which they must exercise on legislative and fiscal measures, controlling the attitude of the political economy of the nations.

"These conditions have led to the decisions taken by the members of the conference held at Brussels September 19th, 1910, in establishing uniform bases, for all the subscribing countries, for the establishment, in addition to the special commercial statistics of each country, of a common classification under which were grouped, in 185 classifications of uniform description, goods imported and exported, indicating both weights and values.

"The aim pursued for so many years is now on the point of attainment and commerce will be able to realize the benefits of what we have called the universal customs language, that is, the designation in identical fashion by the customs administration of each country of articles considered as similar and capable of being classed under the same heading.

"In this respect, the conference at Brussels has succeeded beyond all hopes, all its decisions springing from the desire of the commercial work to have greater harmony and unity in the statistical tables of the customs departments.

"It is without doubt due to the difficulty encountered by all the countries represented at this conference in compiling promptly in addition to their ordinary statistics, the figures of commercial traffic for the year 1911, that we must attribute the failure to publish the tables, for each of the 185 classifications adopted showing the figures of merchandise exported and imported.

"The unanimous favor for the adoption of a common nomenclature will make it possible for each country, at the end of its fiscal year, to compile the supplementary table adopted by the Brussels conference, without awaiting the creation of an international bureau, the purpose of which has ben so well realized by its supporters.

"While looking forward to a uniform definition of gross weight and net weight in the application of customs duties, and of valuation of merchandise, from their places of production and origin, the commercial world would be interested to see the inauguration of the supplementary table adopted by the conference, which would permit it to make for itself the statistical comparison whose necessity is becoming more and more essential.

"The establishment of an international bureau of commercial statistics will meet a want of commerce everywhere, which will be glad to see the publication of a report (which might be at first annual and later semi-annual), to show as completely as possible and for all the countries of the globe the importations and exportations of the various articles of merchandise, each grouped under a uniform description."

The resolution presented with the report, says:

"The Congress invites the Belgian government to convoke as soon as possible a second session of the conference, at which the delegates should be able to bind themselves, in conformity with the agrement already reached, to institute, in addition to the ordinary commercial statistics, a tabulation of the condition of commercial traffic of their respective countries, in order that this may appear, beginning with the fiscal year 1912, as a supplement to these statistics:

"Approves the proposition made at the Brussels Conference to create an international bureau of commercial statistics, whose duty it shall be to compile all useful data to furnish the commerce of the world with an annual review, which should as soon as possible be made semi-annual and eventually monthly, of the commercial traffic of the various countries of the globe, to be compiled in conformity with the classification of merchandise adopted by the aforesaid Conference."

STATE COMMERCE CHAMBER

Organization Set on Foot Yesterday In Greensboro, N. C.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 25.—Representatives of a score of chambers of commerce or boards of trade and prominent business men of the State, after a three-hours' conference here today, took definite steps towards the formation of an organization which it was determined should be known as the North Carolina Chamber of Commerce.

The decision to form such an organization followed a general and enthusiastic discussion of things which were considered needed for the promotion of the welfare of the State and with a purpose of setting underway a movement which will work toward bringing about needed reforms of existing evils whatever they may be and wherever they may exist. The discriminatory freight rates practiced by the railways against the cities of the State was not the least or most remote of alleged evils named at the meeting for immediate remedial treatment.

Today's meeting marked the preliminary steps of organization in the adoption of a constitution and set of by-laws and naming of two committees, one to work out the ways and means for giving strong life to the organization and the other to give prayerful consideration to the perfection of freight rates. These committees are to report at an adjourned meeting to be held in Raleigh October 15th, when organization will be perfected with the election of permanent officers and with the establishment of other details.

In the steps toward permanent formation of a committee to consider ways and means toward financing the organization was appointed. This is composed of Fred A. Olds, of Raleigh; J. Leake Caraway, Charlotte; Mayor John Underwood, Fayetteville; L. E. Tufts, Durham; S. F. Sherman, Goldsboro. This committee is also the nominating committee.

The association is formed with a purpose of exploiting the natural resources of the State, for initiating and assisting in the enactment of laws for the expansion of the work of building good roads through the State, for cooperation with corporations in remedying existing evils in freight and express rates and the improvement of such service, for originating and carrying on the work of publicity of the value of lands, mines, forests and water powers and for the further purpose of creating a Statewide movement of improving the industrial, agricultural and transportation interests of the State. More than 50 secretaries of chambers of commerce, boards of trade and business men were here for the discussion and to aid in the organization.

Marietta, Ga., Sept. 25.—After beating his wife over the head with a baseball bat, Hope Irwin, son of R. C. Irwin, of the Georgia State Comptroller's office, stood before a mirror in his bedroom early today and killed himself by slashing his throat with a razor. Mrs. Irwin is expected to recover. Temporary insanity is said to have been the cause of the acts.

it had been unable to identify 128 names on the polling lists of one box in the city. The most elaborate methods were used to identify the 752 men who voted at this box, but 128 of them could not be found even with the assistance of detectives.

On account of no notice being given of the meeting of the sub-committee here this afternoon,several witnesses were absent. Their testimony will be offered later if the committee desires it.

TEACHERS MAY HELP.

Prof. J. A. Holt Will Receive Wilson Campaign Contributions.

Oak Ridge, N. C., Sept. 24.

To the Teachers of North Carolina:

However we may be divided on other subjects, the teachers of North Carolina, as elsewhere, are practically a unit for the election of Woodrow Wilson. Recently, one of the professors of Cornell University told me that every professor at the institution would probably support Woodrow Wilson, regardless of former political affiliation. There are two reasons. Certain opponents of Gov. Wilson are endeavoring to make political capital against him by reflecting upon his former calling. This, they do notwithstanding it is conceded that no other man in the last half century has entered politics with a clearer vision of the needs of the country, or has exhibited greater executive ability, or responded to the call for better government more quickly or more emphatically than has this scholar in politics and student of statecraft. Therefore, the teachers everywhere are resenting this kind of warfare made upon him.

Second, no other class of men has felt more keenly the high cost of living, incident to a high protective tariff and the combinations known as trusts, than the teacher, whose salary has remained practically the same in the face of rising prices.

Having been appointed, without solicitation, as vice president for the State of North Carolina of the Teachers' Woodrow Wilson Campaign Committee, I shall appoint within a few days a chairman for each county in North Carolina. It is desired that every teacher in the State shall give at least $1.00 to the Wodrow Wilson campaign fund, and remittance can be made direct to me or to the chairman designated in your county, to be forwarded. Lists of contributions will be published in State and local papers at the close of the campaign, if not earlier; and the names of all who contribute will be presented in an attractive form to Governor Wilson by Dr. Clarence J. Owens, of Washington, D. C., in due time.

Every indication points to Governor Wilson's election as President, but we wish to make assurance doubly sure. The National Committee needs money to send out literature and otherwise legitimately promote the election of our leader. For the money which we give to be effective in this legitimate way, it is desired that the entire contribution be in hand early in October, and I appeal to you in all confidence in behalf of this splendid man, "who has removed the stigma of doctrinaire from academic life—a scholar of politics, a scholar in politics, a scholar politically, and a statesman."

Respectfully,
J. ALLEN HOLT.

WORLD SERIES ARRANGEMENTS

National Commission Perfects All Details—First Game Will Be Played at New York, Oct. 8th—Sell Seats at Gate

New York, Sept. 25.—Play for the baseball championship of the world will be begun on the Polo Grounds in New York at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, October 8th. The second game will be played in Boston the following day. Play will alternate each fair weather day between the two cities until either New York or Boston has won the four out of seven games necessary to give them the 1912 title.

Prices for, and the method of selling tickets to the games, will be altogether different in the two cities. Boston will conduct its sale practically in its own way, with preference being given to all of the season's patrons of the game who have been canvassed. The sale in New York will be in the hands of Secretary John A. Heydler, of the National League, and 30,000 of the 38,000 seats will be held for sale at the entrance to the Polo Grounds, and one to each purchaser, on the days of the games.

The umpires for the series will be O'Loughlin and Evans, of the American League, and Rigler and Klem, of the National League.

These are the principal features of the arrangements perfected today at a meeting of the National Baseball Commission, consisting of Chairman August Herrman and Presidents Johnson and Lynch, of the American and National leagues, at the suburban home of Johnson T. Brush, president of the New York club. Also present were President James McAleer and Secretary Robert McRoy, of the Boston Club; Secretary Joseph O'Brien, of the New York club, and Secretary Heydler, of the National League.

The meeting was virtually a series of contests preliminary to the championship, and resulted in the New York Nationals twice winning over the Boston Americans, the American League president defeating the National Commission, and in the National Commission defeating effectually, it is believed, any possibility of a repetition of the ticket speculating scandal in this city which marred the series last year.

Advantage of opening on home grounds was lost to Boston when at the toss of a coin by Mr. Johnson, President Brush, of New York, called 'tails" and President McAleer, of Boston, choose "heads." The coin fell "tails." New York won this so-called advantage of the opening game last year.

The Boston club desired to start the series Monday, October 7th. President Brush regarded Monday as a poor day for an opener in New York and probably also foresaw an advantage in giving the Giants an extra day's rest after their probably late clinching of the pennant title. He wanted the games to begin Tuesday.

"Call it," said Chairman Herrmann, as he flipped a coin. "Heads," said McAleer again. "Tails," said Brush. The coin again fell "tails," scoring a double-header defeat of Boston.

Determined to abide by his declaration that the Boston American League club should handle the sale of tickets in its own way, President Johnson, of the American League, had come to the meeting to fight it out.

The discussion of the much-disputed question, in which August Herrmann took the stand that the National Commission should have authority over the sale of tickets in both cities, and in which President Lynch is said to have sided with him, was conducted behind closed doors.

The commission believes that it has at last checkmated the ticket scalpers by the following programme for the sale of tickets for the New York games:

"Of the 38,000 seats at the Polo grounds 13,000 bleacher seats (unreserved) will be sold at a dollar each; 17,000 lower grand stand seats will be sold at $2 each; 8,000 upper grand stand seats at $3 each, and boxes seating four persons at $25 each. With the exception of the upper grand stand and the boxes all the tickets will be held for sale at the Polo Grounds on the days of the games. One ticket only will be sold to a person and purchasers will be required to enter the grounds immediately after buying.

The block of 8,000 seats in the upper tier of the grand stand will be disposed of at public sale on a date to be announced later, with an allowance of two seats to each purchaser. This sale will not take place, however, until from the 8,000 seats are taken the customary 75 given to each member of the National Commission and two to each of the eligible players and requests from prominent individuals, officials of organized baseball and season box holders have been taken care of. What tickets are left after this priority list is taken care of may be bought from one to three games in advance, but positively no mail orders will be considered, according to Secretary Heydler. Three boxes will be placed on sale at the same time these seats are offered th public.

In Boston, where it is hoped to provide for 30,000 spectators, the prices at Fenway Park will be 50 cents for center field bleachers, $1 for other bleachers, $2 for seats in a new covered stand built along the third base line; $3 for seats in the steel and concrete grand stand, and $5 each for box seats. All reserved seats will be sold in advance by preference to regular patrons. They will be good for three games. A rebate will be made in case the third game is not played. It is emphasized that all these reserved seats will be three day tickets only at $9 and $6. Applications by mail from outside points will be considered, but no money accepted with applications. In case the application can be filled, the applicant will be advised to send his check. The commission will meet in Cincinnati Friday or Saturday to announce the eligible players and dispose of other business that may come up.

HOBGOOD BEGINS SENTENCE

Oxford County Man Gets 30 Years. Appeals From Sixth Judicial District—Charters for Two Enterprises.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 25.—Milton Hobgood was brought to the penitentiary today from Oxford to begin the service of his sentence of 30 years for the murder of Propus Wilkinson, commissioner of Granville county, because Wilkinson had sheltered his wife and child who had been driven from Hobgood's home by his drunken abuse of them.

The murder occurred three weeks ago and Governor Kitchin ordered a special court to be held. This convened Monday and Hobgood entered a plea of guilty. It is really said of him that he is insane, but this plea was not entered for some season. It is said that several times in the past steps have been started to have him treated in the State hospital for the insane. He is especially well connected in Granville, being a brother of the sheriff-elect of Granville.

Charters are issued for the Richlands Valley Orchard Co., of Waynesville, capital $50,000 authorized and $4,000 subscribed by C. Y. Mayo, W. S. Brooke, Jas. Atkins, Jr., and others, and for the Imperial Pharmacy Co., of Fayetteville, capital $20,000, by M. L. Perry, F. A. Fleming, W. J. Elliott, and others, for a general drug business.

When appeals from the Sixth judicial district are called next Tuesday for argument in the Supreme Court, the first argument will be in the noted case of State vs. L. J. Norris, from Wake county, under sentence of 20 years in the penitentiary for the murder of J. B. Bissett in a woods just east of Raleigh, 18 months ago. Norris has been in Wake county jail since his conviction and sentenced a year ago last July. Some months ago he prevented a jail delivery by lowering a note from his window on the second floor of the jail and secretly attracting the attention of the jailer. Norris was a pressman for Edwards & Broughton Co., of this city, and worked and was well known in Norfolk and Richmond before coming to Raleigh. The conviction of Norris was on circumstantial evidence. Bissett was surprised and shot down while he was with a woman with whom both Norris and Bissett had been earlier in the evening.

Other Sixth District appeals are: State vs. Allen; Caudle vs. Morris; Smith vs. Town of Dunn; Fields vs. Coleman; Gill vs. Commissioners of Wake; Stinson vs. Commissioners of Wake; Fleming vs. Norfolk Southern; Holder vs. North Carolina Railroad Co.; Sanders vs. Atlantic Coast Line; State's Prison vs. Hoffman; Berger vs. Smith; Weathers & Perry vs. Cox; Holding vs. Powers; Soda Fountain Co., vs. Shell; Mule Co., vs. Seaboard Air Line; Thompson vs. Smith; Mule Co., vs. Seaboard Air Line; Partin vs. Prince.

Gill vs. Commissioners of Wake is a case of importance in that it involves the question of whether in procuring petitioners for calling an election on local tax for improvement of schools it is necessary to include women and non-resident freeholders in getting petitioners representing one-fourth of the freeholders of the territory. These were not counted in the Wake Forest special tax movement and the validity of the election is questioned.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, superintendent of public instruction; W. M. Walker, supervisor of public high schools; L. C. Brogden, supervisor of elementary schools, and J. A. Bivans, supervisor of teacher training, left today for the district meeting of county superintendents and high school principals of the Western District, at Marion, N. C. September 25-27, R. A. Sentelle being president and A. C. Reynolds, secretary.

CELEBRATION AT ROWLAND

Completion of the Alma and Southbound Railroad in Robeson

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rowland, N. C., Sept. 25.—Next Friday, the 27th, is going to be a great day for Rowland; in fact, it will be by far the greatest day that this thriving little town has ever had. The occasion will be a grand celebration in honor of the completion of the Maxton, Alma Southbound Railroad to this place. A special train will be run over this new road from Maxton and great crowds are expected.

Among the attractions will be addresses by Hon. W. C. Hammer, of Ashboro; Major A. J. McKinnon, of Maxton, president of the new road, and others. There will be a giant barbecue, fifteen pigs having been ordered, and a basket dinner besides. In the afternoon there will be foot races, potato races and many other athletic sports. A good brass band will furnish music during the entire day.

This new road opens up a splendid section between this place and Maxton and gives us direct connection with the Seaboard.

BIG RAINS IN HALIFAX.

Railroad Traffic Seriously Interfered With—Other Notes.

Scotland Neck, N. C., Sept. 24.—One of the biggest rains fell here this afternoon that has visited this section in many years. The rain began about 2:30 o'clock and kept up an almost incessant downpour until after night.

About 50 or 75 yards of track was washed up about three miles north of this place, delaying the night train for several hours and causing much damage by washouts. So serious was the condition of the railroad that the officials finally turned the train back and finished the run to Weldon via Rocky Mount.

BEN VANN SENTENCED.

Second Degree Murder Given 25 Years Takes an Appeal.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Sept. 25.—Found guilty of murder in the second degree, Ben F. Vann was today sentenced to 25 years hard labor in the State penitentiary for killing Oliver Layden, a 15-year-old Belvidere lad on July 11th. Vann's counsel gave notice of an appeal to the State Supreme Court and bail was fixed at $5,000.

PURCHASE MT. MITCHELL.

Either State or Federal Government Should Own It—West Carolina.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 24.—There are a number of people in this part of the State who are anxious that the State should take some action to preserve Mt. Mitchell as it now is. They insist that this should be done for several reasons. One is in the interest of the conservation movement; another is that it should be preserved for the good of posterity; a third is that it should be preserved as a monument to Prof. Mitchell, who lost his life in exploring this, the highest peak east of the rockies, where he now lies buried. They declare that unless some action is taken soon by the State, it is in imminent danger of losing one of its greatest natural attractions, since the lumbermen are already beginning to encroach on its sides; and in the natural course of events it will not be many years until the whole mountain is denuded of forests. This, they contend, would be little short of tragedy and would not be fair to the coming generations. Already nearly all of the trees have been destroyed on the very top of the mountain, cut down for fuel by those who spend nights on the peak. Some steps should be taken to stop this destruction in any event, they say.

If the State should secure the boundary including this mountain, it is thought that it could be maintained without any expense to the State; that is, that it would produce enough revenue to pay for patrolling necessary to keep out fires and to prevent people from cutting down the trees. In this connection mention is made of the German methods, where municipalities own forests and use the revenue in lieu of taxes. It is said that there are numbers of towns in Germany where the people are not taxed at all, but the running expenses of the government is paid by the revenue of the forests.

Of course, there is a chance that the boundary may be taken over by the Federal government under the Weeks' bill; but it is hardly likely, as the Federal government is for the most part considering those lands which have been cut over. Besides, it is held that the State should own the tract on account of the historical interest.

One of the candidates for the General Assembly expressed the intention this morning of introducing a bill to have the State buy the Mt. Mitchell land if he should be elected. He said he thought the State should own it in order to preserve it in its present beauty, and he thought that this would be one expense that the people as a whole would favor. The details of the plan have not been worked out, however.

A delegation representing the Greater Western North Carolina Association, headed by Manager Sanford H. Cohen, will visit all the county fairs held in the section of the State included in the association. They will do this in order to try to have real estate exchanges formed in the various counties. The idea is to have the agricultural, horticultural, mineral, timber and grazing lands which are for sale, so listed that the people coming into this section with a view to investment may easily see what is fo rsale. It is also expected that a larger co-operation of the railroads will be invited, as it has been stated that if such exchanges are formed the roads will run excursions here for the purpose of bringing homeseekers and investors. Such excursions will bring people who otherwise might not come. The first fair to be visited will be that of Jackson county, which begins tomorrow.

TRINITY ENDOWMENT.

Work Has Begun in Newbern District. Disorder on Trains.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 25.—The movement to add a million dollars to the endowment fund of Trinity College, took definite shape here when the campaign to raise the Newbern district's share of the $200,000 was formally launched, and quite a neat sum was subscribed to begin with. The committee appointed by the presiding elder of this district of the Methodist church, met here, in the Queen Street church, to discuss ways and means for raising as much as possible in this district. Rev. J. H. McCrackan, of Beaufort, presided over the meeting, and short talks were made by various members of the committee. Considerable enthusiasm was manifested, and it was the opinion of all present that the work should be pressed vigorously to a finish, as the whole $200,000 must be subscribed by December 31st of this year. After making definite plans, subscription books were opened, and the members of the committee present pledged $1,000 to the fund. An executive committee consisting of Revs. J. E. Underwood, F. S. Love and J. H. McCrackan was appointed to take the matter in charge, and under their direction the campaign will be pushed in every town in the district.

Determined to break up lawlessness on its trains, and to see that some one is punished for the infamous affair on an excursion to Norfolk last week, which resulted in the serious cutting of young John Kearney, of Snow Hill, the Norfolk Southern Railroad's secret agents are scouring the territory contiguous to its lines for witnesses. Another arrest has been made at Plymouth, and Detective J. L. Pettus attempted to take Kearney to that town, the seat of the prosecution. The man arrested at Plymouth, and not Joe Bunting, a mulatto who was arrested here, was the assailant of Kearney, it is now said. Bunting is being held as an accessory. Detective Pettus sought to carry Kearney to the Washington county seat to prosecute the new prisoner, but the wounded man's condition was declared by his physician to be too poor for his removal. There is suspicion that Kearney's low condition is partly affected, and he is said to have declared that he will take no part in the prosecution. If such should be the case the grand jury of Washington county will subpoena him, and charges may be preferred against him for his share in the trouble.

WILMINGTON PRESBYTERY

Second Day's Sessions at Clarkton Most Pleasant and Profitable

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clarkton, N. C., Sept. 25.—Wilmington Presbytery, in annual Fall session here, reconvened at 9 o'clock this morning. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. S. Crowley, of Wilmington. The report of the James Sprunt Institute at Kenansville, was given by Rev. J. E. L. Winecoff. Owing to the absence of Rev. P. McIntyre, no report was had from Faison Academy. Rev. H. W. Koelling, assistant pastor of St. Andrew's church, Wilmington, preached an able sermon which was enjoyed by a large congregation, many of whom feel a deep, special interest in Mr. Keolling's work as he served a group of Bladen churches last Summer.

From far and near the people of the community and surrounding towns gathered at the noon hour in the beautiful grove by the side of the church and had a very enjoyable "basket dinner," thus entering into the social features of the Presbytery.

At the night session which was an overflow meeting, Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., and Rev. J. M. Wells, D. D., spoke very inmpressively concerning the home mission work of the Presbytery.

The following ruling elders came in today: Messrs. E. McN. Carr, Rose Hill; S. N. Ferguson, Bladenboro; D. Jeff Burney, Brown Marsh; R. B. Cromartie, Elizabethtown; W. B. McClellan, Wilmington; Willie Sloan, Garland.

Rev. R. A. Lapsley, D. D., of Richmond, Va., father of the gifted young pastor of the church here, came in today and will make two addresses tomorrow which are looked forward to with much interest.

Mr. William Laurie Hill, editor of "Our Fatherless Ones," of Barium Springs, also attended today's session and spoke very interestingly of the orphanage work at Barium Springs.

Miss Annie Bell Russ returned to her home here today from the mountains of western North Carolina where she spent the Summer.

Among the visitors from a distance here today were: Mrs. Don McRackan, Whiteville; Mrs. J. P. Council and daughter, Miss Agnes, of Wananish, and Mrs. R. B. Cromartie, of Elizabethtown.

NO TROUBLE WITH MEXICO

Gen. Wood Says Intervention Talk Is A Bugaboo

Chicago, Sept. 25.—"I don't see even the remotest possibility of any trouble between the United States and Mexico," declared Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States Army, who arrived here today on a tour of inspection of army posts in the North and Northwest, in discussing the Mexican situation. "Our troops along the border are there to preserve neutrality and to be ready for an emergency," continued the general. "They have strict orders not to step across the international line. I think the talk of intervention is nothing but a bugaboo." General Wood today inspected Fort Sheridan. From Chicago General Wood said the would go to Rock Island, Ill., and then to Omaha.

Why not be straight?

The eat in wheat is what makes the biscuit good.

Autumn is here but we still have the Summer girl on the job.

True Democrats would rather vote for Senator than scratch the ticket.

Many a man continues to wear his straw hat because he is determined to get the worth of his money.

According to the latest rule, we have to vote the straight Democratic ticket. It is up to us. That's all.

It cost a New Yorker $50,000 to get a divorce from his wife. That represents the high cost of unhappy living.

Lawyers are sometimes called "criminal lawyers" when the facts in the case show that they are not criminal.

We probably would be called a nature faker if we were to assert the fact that the moose is a descendant of the elephant.

Overconfidence makes us exhuberant while it lasts, but on the gray dawn of the morning after we sadly wonder how it happened.

Low prices for American goods abroad and high prices for the same goods at home compel Republicans to make excuses that betray consternation.

According to some men's idea of a party primary, some voters would be qualified to vote in the primary of every political party in North Carolina. Hands all round.

The Chester (Pa.) Republican reminds us that the Bull Moose party in Pennsylvania has two wings. This accounts for the fact that there is lots of flopping in the Keystone State.

A Nebraska dispatch to the New York Tribune says Roosevelt is losing ground. The probality is that he won't have enough ground left on which to make his last stand at Armageddon.

Those candidates who have to suffer the pangs of defeat can receive consolation from the assertion of a scientist that the world will continue to exist millions of years hence. This will afford lots of time for another chance.

If you do not contribute to the Democratic campaign fund you won't have any jurisdiction in the matter of saying some other fellow is not a Democrat. Get busy. The Star will receive your contribution to your cause.

President Taft probably believes there is more truth than poetry in all this talk about the election of a Democratic President. Rather than take any chances he placed 36,000 fourth-class Republican postmasters on the protected list.

The Missourians who carried Taft banners in the crowds which assembled to hear Roosevelt speak, doubtless wanted to emphasize the fact that they were unmistakably from "Missouri." It made Teddy mad and he called them "crooks" in spite of the fact that they showed that they were straight Republicans.

Lots of men don't want women to vote because they do not think it is ladylike. Men have made voting take on the appearance of not being the proper thing. The ballot box ought to be so respected that a perfect lady can vote if she desires to do so. If men were to make the church what they have made of their political affairs they would feel squeamish about taking a lady to preaching. Make politics respectable.

THE BOOK OF THE TIMES.

The Star has received from the publishers, the Bancroft Company, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York, copy of a book entitled, "Retrospect," by Herbert Howe Bancroft. The work, which has special reference to the Panama Canal, contains 562 pages and is sold by book-sellers at $2. It is on sale in Wilmington at the book store of C. W. Yates & Co.

The title of the book before us is trite compared with the subject or subjects under treatment. The author has led us in numerous chapters to look back over history—to take a retrospective view—in order to bring us up to a completer conception of recent history and history in the making. The special history in this connection is that particularly of the western portion of the United States, and in recalling it and giving us an analytical review of the past century's events, he does so to bring us up to a more intelligent conception of the meaning of the Panama Canal. North Carolina and all this South Atlantic States are specially interested in the great isthmian waterway which cleaves the continent and makes new history and much more to come. Everybody, therefore, interested in the opening of the great canal which is to alter the commercial relations of the world, and that is about everybody, or in the development of commerce, or in the development of California and the countries around the Pacific, or in civic purity and the prosperity of the United States, will find Bancroft's book to be a work of great interest and importance.

In "Retrospect" the author makes us look backward into history and look forward to present and future history. More intensely interesting than romance is his clear and concise statement of historic facts. From the earliest knowledge of the Wild West, with its hordes of Indians, he carries us step by step through some of the most intensely interesting history of this country. It is informing and educational, and the book is well timed in view of the actual opening of the Panama Canal in October of next year and its formal opening to navigation January, 1915.

We cannot attempt in this brief space to give even a gist of the comprehensive narrative of Mr. Bancroft, for his collation embraces 27 chapters with not a dull line on any of the more than half thousand pages of the book. We would like to recount the last chapter, which emphasizes "the significance of the Panama Canal," but even that could not be compased into reasonable space. Those who read Mr. Bancroft's remarkable book, will marvel that in it he shows that in the construction of the canal across our continent, commercial history will repeat itself. He points out that 400 years ago the isthmus of Darien, or Panama, was the pivotal point upon which turned the richest commerce of the world. Then it was carried by galleys, rude ships and mule back, while soon Panama is again to become the pivotal point of the world's commerce, carried in great modern steamships from all parts of the world, from ocean to ocean, and from port to port, without breaking bulk. The canal will cause a new routing of the world's commerce, and the author impressively says: "The economic energy of the world is here liberated, but the Panaman canal has no significance to him who will not respond to its inspirations; to him who will not throw off inertia and timidity and go forth to achieve; who will not study and invent, and develop; who will not work, and make and sell."

The Star can say this much for "Retrospection." It is a most illuminating and powerful introduction to the new era which is to open epochally with the canal, and one can neither appreciate the historic nor the commercial significance of the Panama Canal and grasp its immense importance, till he shall have read the historical facts in that extraordinary book. We can hardly recall that the press has turned out in a quarter of a century a book which is more timely, more valuable, or more fascinating in all its contents. It is the book of the times.

NO PERKINS TO PULL.

The Democratic party has no George W. Perkins with a fat leg to pull for campaign expenses. Perkins is the wet nurse to the Bull Moose. Woodrow Wilson cannot depend upon the trusts. He is against them and they are against him. Taft and Roosevelt both stand for protection and special interests and they can get all the money they want, for if either should win or a Republican-Bull Moose Congress should be elected the trusts and special interests will be elected.

Wilson is fighting the cause of the people and it is the people upon whom he depends to pay his campaign expenses. If the people do not do so, it will make the Democratic canvass inefficient. Many leading Democrats are paying their own expenses and doing splendid work for the ticket. It is said that William J. Bryan will spend $15,000 to pay his own expenses during his campaign tour for the Democratic nominee. He is not only giving his money but his time. Others are doing the same in a less degree.

It will cost the average Democrat only a small amount to aid in fighting his own cause. He certainly ought to be willing to help bear a small part of the expense in a result which will be a good investment for him and his country. Some Democrats appreciate that fact and fully realize their responsibility. Let us point to Rockbridge county, Virginia, for instance. The Wilson campaign contributions in that county aggregate $1 for every Democrate voter in the county. There is no large town in Rockbridge and not many men who can be called rich. However, the Democrats of that county realize that a Democratic victory means taking the hands of the trusts out of their pockets. They want to see Wilson elected, hence they put their own hands in their pockets and show their faith by their works.

No Democrat can afford to be indifferent in this crisis involving the question whether the people will longer submit to taxation by a government in partnership with trusts and special interests, which are permitted by Republican tariff laws to levy tribute upon the people for their enrichment. Indifference simply is folly. There is too much at stake. The campaign for the people will cost $100,000 from now till November 5th, for campaign literature, speakers' expenses, railroad fares, organizers, and workers to see that voters are registered and to get them out to the polls on election day.

Shall the people's cause go by default because they do not realize how important the election is to them? The Baltimore Evening Sun thus States the case clearly:

"Wilson has no George W. Perkins, no trust or corporation to back him. He can't expect anything from high-tariff beneficiaries. The books are open; no money accepted from any 'interest' that might put him under the slightest obligation. Governor Wilson is depending upon the voluntary contributions of those who want to see a President elected who is indebted only to the people and will serve them alone. He has a right to expect them to contribute enough to pay the expenses of his campaign. Can we afford to disappoint him?"

The Democrats of Wilmington, New Hanover county, and eastern North Carolina are way behind in their support of the Democratic cause. They boast their Democracy and are free to declare whether a man is a Democrat or not a Democrat, but they are not proving themselves to be Democrats willing to put a few dollars up for Democratic victory.

The Star is receiving contributions to be sent to the National Committee which is doing the fighting for us. We ought to do our part. We are asking no favor of any Democrat. It is as much his duty as it is ours to help out the people's cause, and what he ought to do is to do it now or never.

WATCHMAN, TELL OF THE NIGHT.

The political situation in New York is so tangled it is now difficult to predict the result of the 5th of next November. The Republican party is split and part is following Taft, while a formidable procession is tacking along after Roosevelt. With a united Democracy in New York, Wilson would surely sweep that State, but the Democracy is probably as badly divided as the Republican party. The anti-Tammany and anti-Dix fight evidently will seriously affect the result of the election. A Presidential year is a bad year to have a Democratic house cleaning, but it is just like Democrats to fight any old time that a fight is necessary or inviting.

The latest is that Governor Wilson is to take a hand in New York politics. The National Democratic Committee a few days ago gave out a qualified statement that it did not expect to take a hand in the fight against Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany boss, or against Governor Dix, who is accused of being Tammany-made. However, if it is true that Wilson is in the fight, we may expect to see the National Democratic organization also in the melee, for the National Committee announced that it would only take part in New York politics when it involved the National ticket. Well, it is about to involve the ticket or the ticket is about to involve itself, for the New York World of Tuesday says:

"Gov. Wilson sent word to the Democratic National campaign managers yesterday through Acting Chairman William G. McAdoo, that he will not tolerate the re-nomination of Gov. Dix. This news was given out officially and in plain language at National headquarters in the Fifth avenue building.

"Word of the Wilson ultimatum was carried by The World to high official authorities in Tammany Hall in the absence of Mr. Murphy from the city. They declared: 'We will not submit to having a Wilson nominee forced down our throats. Tammany will not turn tail, but will fight.'

"This means that the lines of battle are clearly drawn and that the Syracuse Convention will see one of the hottest fights in the political history of the State. Governor Wilson's attiture, as outlined by Mr. McAdoo, to his co-managers, is that Dix is a boss-controlled Governor and that to submit to his re-nomination by Murphy would mean that Governor Wilson would be countenancing the very kind of methods in New York which he is fighting in New Jersey, through his warfare on James Smith, Jr. Last Saturday night Governor Wilson declared to a prominent Democrat: 'I would rather stand by my principles than be President. I will not countenance boss rule.'

"This was the spirit of an interview yesterday morning between Governor Wilson and Mr. McAdoo, following which Mr. McAdoo came to National headquarters with this message: 'I will put my foot down and put it down hard against boss control of the New York State situation,' is stated to have been the way Governor Wilson expressed himself."

Well, that looks like a fight to the finish. The Tammany tiger will fight, and Wilson will fight. Which will be the stronger at the battle of Syracuse?

Some men might afford to be private citizens awhile after having held some office all their lives. That is the only way some of them will ever know what it is to be one of the "plain people."

People who may vote for Taft or Roosevelt and support the State Democratic ticket, or who may vote for Settle or Meares and support the National Democratic ticket, would disqualify themselves from voting in a Democratic primary to nominate a United States Senator. Our expectation was that it was to be a Democratic primary and our understanding now is that the State Democratic committee decided that it should be a Democratic primary to ascertain the choice of Democrats. Who's making this nomination, anyhow—Democrats or nondescripts?

CURRENT COMMENT.

As the Colonel carries his campaign southward the Progressive policy of negro exclusion will have a chance at last to prove its practical worth.—New York World.

The St. Louis Times says that "Colonel Roosevelt's chief enemy at the present writing is General Apathy. The News-Leader of Richmond, Va., asks: "How about General Distrust?" And there is also General Awakening, for the people are onto the Colonel.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The Observer has received a copy of Mr. Whitehead Kluttz's address delivered at Ocean Grove, July 29, on "International and Intersectional Peace." This is the address which the government did Mr. Kluttz the honor to print as Senate Document No. 885, at the instance of Senator Overman.—Charlotte Observer.

It appears that the steps taken by the county and city officials looking toward the abatement of the so-called "social evil," following the severe arraignment of Judge Daniels is bearing some fruit. The repeated statements to the effect that the evil cannot be abated seems to be a mere subterfuge. Law can be enforced and Charlotte people know it.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The Wilmington Star gives some interesting information about the proposed harbor of refuge to be established at Cape Lookut. This work will be in charge of Maj. H. W. Stickle, United States Engineer, with headquarters at Wilmington. Actual construction work will begin, The Star is informed, about January 1st, next. It is estimated that something like three and a half million dollars will be expended on this great piece of engineering work. This alone will be a big item in increasing the business of this section, but it will be only a trifle as compared with the commercial importance and prestige which the existence of the harbor of refuge in the Cape Lookout section will cause to attach to the section. The opening of the Panama canal and the presence in this State of a safe harbor for the ships that will pass our coast to and from the canal together with the benefits from the inland waterway should mean a great deal towards the commercial and industrial development of eastern North Carolina.—Newbern Journal.

Concerning William Flinn, Mr. Roosevelt's purified ally, the following Pittsburg dispatch, describing a scene last Friday, September 20th, is of interest: 'Booth and Flinn, contractors, of which firm William Flinn is head, caused the arrest today of several score idle men who refused work offered them. All the big contracting companies have been resorting to all manner of expedients to get laborers. While more than a hundred idlers hung over the rail in the 'Hump' district, watching the excavation work, a foreman went through the crowd offering $2 for a ten-hour day. He was in a crowd of the kind that never work. No one volunteered. Three patrol wagons were summoned. At the police station those who agreed to go to work were paroled to the contractor. The others went to the workhouse for thirty days." No, this was not in Russia, but in the American city where "Bill' Flinn is the boss—in the stronghold of Roosevelt, the apostle of "social justice." Vagrancy is a nuisance, but arresting men for refusing to work for Flinn looks too much like "shanghaiing."—Baltimore Sun.

$1 HIS LIFE'S CAPITAL.

Rich Man's Son Has That Sum After Serving Prison Term.

Chicago, Sept. 24. — Harold F. Hoops, son of a wealthy manufacturer here, who, more than three weeks ago was sent to the city workhouse on a fine of $25, after a young woman had complained that he tried to induce her to enter his automobile, was released. His father sent him a check for $15, with a note which read:

"You have now served 26 days in prison. You were fined $25 for insulting a young girl on the street, and to have worked out that fine would have entailed 50 days. In other words, the State allows you 50 cents a day for your labor. I also allow you that sum. The inclosed check is payment in full. This is the first money you ever earned in your life. Twelve dollars will pay that part of your fine that has not been worked out. That will leave you $1 of capital with which to begin a new life. Come to see me and I will find some honest work for you to do. What you have done in the past has been forgiven. Whether it can be forgotten depends on yourself. You now have a clean sheet on which to write your future."

Hoops paid his fine, came downtown on a street car, and went directly to his father's office.

WHY DR. ELIOT IS FOR WILSON

Says Governor Possesses Qualities Needed In A President

(Special to the Baltimore Sun.)

New York, Sept. 25.—Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, has sent to the New York Times a letter discussing the great issues of the Presidential campaign and setting forth the reasons why he favors the election of Gov. Woodrow Wilson. In part, the letter says:

"Since all social changes have industrial and political consequences, social reforms, like industrial, can be safely effected only by the method of cautious experiment with adequate notice, and not by the sudden impetuous rush of an emotional multitude. The education of a new generation is often needed to give such reforms satisfactory effect.

"The Democratic party's platform and candidates, while less conservative than the Republican, hold out more hope or expectation of a wise dealing with the reforms proposed than the Progressive party does. In particular, the published sayings of Governor Wilson are much more prudent and measured in regard to the proposed changes than those of ex-President Roosevelt. Indeed, Governor Wilson's temperament, knowledge and experience fit him to deal wisely, as President of the United States, with all these philanthropic projects.

"The coming troublous years will call for fairness, sober judgment and quiet resolutions in the executive head of the government. Governor Wilson's career gives many indications that he possesses these qualities. Through 30 years of public life ex-President Roosevelt has proved to the American people that these are not his characteristics."

RAIN AT CAMDEN.

Thousands of Dollars of Damage in South Carolina Town.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 25.—A special from Camden says: "Camden experienced the heaviest rainfall Monday and Monday night that has been seen here in many years, and as a result thousands of dollars worth of damage has been sustained by the Pine Creek Cotton Mills farmers, railroads and the country roads. The dam of the old factory pond broke yesterday morning and washed away the grist mill and cotton gin of the Pine Creek Cotton Mill. One hundred and fifty feet of the dam was torn away by the rushing water. This will necessitate the closing down of the cotton mill for a week or ten days until a temporary dam can be constructed. This is one of the Parker mills.

The rushing waters, from the large pond, after the dam gave way, washed away the trestle over Depot creek leading on the spur line from the Atlantic Coast Line and Southern tracks to the Hermitage Cotton Mill. It is impossible at present to ascertain the damage done to the Pine Creek Cotton Mill property.

REGULAR WEEKLY SESSION

Yesterday's Meeting of Council Marked by Harmony Which Prevailed. Several Matters of Interest Considered.

Featured by the harmony which prevailed, an absolute lack of dissension among the members that unfortunately has characterized so many of the sessions of late, the regular weekly meeting of City Council was held yesterday morning. It was rather a brief session, due in a large measure to the absence of animated discussions over trivial matters that have marked so many meetings of the body.

True, there was not a great deal of business to be transacted, but what was before the body was disposed of with dispatch and in a manner satisfactory to all members. Every resolution, every motion was adopted by unanimous vote. The meeting was so vastly different from the other regular sessions that it was remarked upon by a city official who has attended quite all of the meetings.

The meeting was called to order at 9:15 o'clock by Mayor Joseph D. Smith, who presided, with all members in attendance except Councilman P. Q. Moore, who is out of the city for a few days. In attendance also were Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer; Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health; City Engineer F. F. Pillett; City Attorney Herbert McClammy, and Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau. The first matter to receive attention was a communication from Dr. Nesbitt containing recommendations relative to the contemplated improvements of the Front street market house. The communication was handed to the Mayor last Wednesday afternoon and was given in last Thursday's Star in connection with proceedings of Council. The assistant city attorney will prepare ordinances covering the recommendation of the superintendent of health and these will be adopted at a subsequent meeting of Council. Members of Council expressed themselves as being very highly pleased with the suggestions of the superintendent of health.

Councilman Tiencken said that he had notified the Tidewater Power Co., that the city would expect the company to pay the amount due the municipality for money advanced for street work, by next Monday and that he had been informed that Mr. Hugh MacRae, president of the company, would be here Friday and the matter would be considered at that time. The amount due is about $37,000. The question again came up as to whether the Tidewater Power Co., will be required to pay for the paving of 12 inches on each side or the car tracks as provided by the company's franchise, or 18 inches as provided by statute. Members of Council seemed to be disposed to charge the company for only 12 inches. The city attorney stated that he had proposed to counsel for the Tidewater Power Co., that the company pay to the city the amount due on basis of 12 inches and then let a friendly suit be started in Superior Court to determine whether the company should pay on a basis of 18 inches. He proposed to let the case be heard before Judge Carter next week and if the case goes against the city to abide by the decision, but if in favor of the city to allow the company the right to appeal. Counsel for the company took the proposition under advisement and has not yet notified the city attorney whether he would accept or reject it.

Upon recommendation of Councilman B. C. Moore the contract for furnishing uniforms for the sanitary police was awarded to Mr. J. W. H. Fuchs at $14.75 a suit. Nine suits are to be purchased. Mr. Fuchs was the only bidder.

Bids were opened for doing the carpentry work in connection with the improvement of Front street market house, as follows: W. A. Simons, work to cost over $2.875 plus 10 per cent. commission to him and 15 per cent. of the amount if under the estimated cost. J. D. Brantley, $2,122 and give city credit for all old material used. P. C. LeMoyne flat price of $1,495.10 with 10 per cent. commission. He offers to use only new material.

The contract for the carpentry work was awarded to Mr. LeMoyne. Bids for masonry and concrete work and plumbing were opened some days ago and the contracts were awarded yesterday as follows: Meier Marble & Granite Works, masonry and concrete, $2,064. D. L. T. Capps, plumbing, $930. This makes a total of $4,489. The original appropriation for the improvement of the market house was $3,000 and this was increased to $5,000 by resolution yesterday morning. The improvements to the market house are to be made according to plans prepared by Mr. J. F. Gause, Jr., the architect, and work is to begin in a short time.

Mayor Smith stated that he and Councilman Tiencken visited the bridge over the Seaboard tracks on Fourth street Monday and found the structure in bad condition, some of the supports being undermined by the heavy rains. He said that work was begun yesterday morning to improve the bridge. Mayor Smith also called attention to the condition of Water street at the rear of the market house, saying that water ponds there after rains. The matter was referred to City Engineer F. F. Pillett.

Councilman B. C. Moore said that he did not want the term of the members of Council to expire without a new bridge being secured over the Seaboard tracks at Fourth street. There is a controversy between the Seaboard and Coast Line as to certain track rights and as soon as this has been settled it is said that work on a new steel bridge will be begun.

When the question of making an appropriation from the street improvement fund of about $1,000 for a drain at Sixth and Taylor streets came up Councilman B. C. Moore said that he did not want any more street money appropriated until he was given something for streets in his section of the city. He said that he was not asking for drains, but for improvement of streets. Action was deferred. Council then adjourned.

CROOM GAVE HIMSELF UP

Man Wanted for Murder of Magistrate J. H. Sykes Surrendered To Officers Yesterday—Committed to Jail

C. T. Croom, a well-known man and at one time a deputy sheriff, charged with the murder of Magistrate J. H. Sykes, a few weeks ago, is in the county jail. He surrendered himself yesterday morning to Sheriff S. P. Cowan and Justice George Harriss at Scott's Hill, by appointment over the telephone, and was brought to Wilmington at noon. He is hopeful that his case will be reached this week if Superior Court convenes today or tomorrow. If he cannot get a speedy trial there is a likelihood that he will seek his freedom through habeas corpus proceedings.

It was currently reported Tuesday that Croom would give himself up either Tuesday or yesterday and late Tuesday night it was learned from a reliable source that it was his purpose to surrender to Sheriff Cowan and Justice Harriss yesterday morning.

Early yesterday morning Justice Harriss received a telephone message from Croom asking that he and Sheriff Cowan meet him, between Wilmington and Scott's Hill so he could surrender. He stated that he had ordered an automobile from Starkey's garage and would leave Scott's Hill about the time the officers left Wilmington. Sheriff Cowan, Justice Harriss and Deputy Sheriff Kelly left immediately in the former's automobile. Croom did not meet them about midway between the points mentioned and the officers continued on to Scott's Hill. There in front of the home of Mr. J. T. Foy they met Croom in an automobile with his brother, Mr. Walter Croom. The automobile was in charge of a negro chauffeur. The party had trouble with the automobile, which accounts for Croom's failure to keep his appointment with the officers.

Croom is said to have told the officers that he had been advised by his attorneys to keep out of the way of the officers and to give himself up on the eve of the convening of court. The defendant said he had a horror of being confined in jail and it was because of this that he evaded the officers instead of giving himself up immediately upon the death of Mr. Sykes. It was stated that Croom said he spent a great deal of his time in Wilmington, but for some days had been in the woods around Scott's Hill.

The circumstances of the death of Magistrate Sykes, which occurred only a few weeks ago, are well remembered by the reading public. On the night of July 13th Sykes was struck in the face by Croom in front of a place run by J. E. Holton, on Princess street, between Water and Front, and he fell to the hard pavement, causing a serious wound in the back of his head. Croom was a clerk at Holton's place and the trouble started inside the store. Sykes was given medical attention and his condition was so serious the Monday following that Croom, who had surrendered on Sunday to Justice Harriss and given bond of $250, was re-arrested and held in the custody of an officer until Tuesday, when the wounded man was pronounced out of danger. Sykes was later removed to his home and was able to be up and once or twice was seen in his garden. About a week before his death he became much worse, but there still appeared some hope for him until a few days preceding his demise two or three weeks ago. The coroner's jury, which was assembled to investigate the circumstances of the death, held that Sykes came to his death from a blow inflicted or caused by C. T. Croom.

Croom was in the city on the day that Sykes died, but when officers went to look for him in the afternoon they could not find him. The impression has been pretty general for some days that Croom would surrender just before the convening of court this week.

SECOND CARGO OF COTTON

Str. Monkshaven Clears for Liverpool —Cutter Goes to Beaufort

The British steamer Monkshaven, Capt. Milburn, cleared and steamed yesterday for Liverpool with the second cargo of cotton to be exported from this port during the present season. The Monkshaven's cargo consisted of 9,107 bales, having a value of $547,000. The cargo and vessel are by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son.

The schooner Vanlear Black, Capt. Davidson, cleared yesterday for New York with cargo of 506,000 feet lumber. The cargo was by the Buel-Crocker Lumber Company, and Messrs. Maffitt & Wood were agents for the vessel.

As a result of the rains of Monday and Tuesday the steamer City of Fayetteville, which has been tied up at her dock at Fayetteville for several weeks, was able to make the trip to Wilmington yesterday and arrived shortly before noon. There has not been enough water in the upper Cape Fear for purposes of navigation and the report of 6.8 feet of water at Fayetteville yesterday was hailed with delight by many people who have to depend on the river for transportation facilities.

The United States revenue cutter Seminole left her station here yesterday afternoon for Beaufort to render aid, if possible, to an unidentified brigantine reported in distress near the Core Banks life saving station in yesterday morning's dispatches.

Wanted In South Carolina

Early Jones, a colored youth, wanted at Marion, S. C., for breaking into the house of Sheriff Blue, of Marion county, and stealing a watch and for entering several other houses, was arrested yesterday afternoon about five miles from the city by L. F. Johnson, colored, who is a deputy sheriff of Marion county. The boy saw Johnson about the time Johnson saw him and a lively chase ensued, the lad being finally overtaken. The boy denied that he took the watch. He will be taken back to Marion this morning.

PLAN NEW SANITARY SYSTEM

Ordinances Are to Be Rigidly Enforced and Work May Be Done In Day Time Instead of at Night To Overcome Deficit

The present expensive and unsatisfactory system of doing the sanitary work, due largely, it is claimed, to the non-enforcement of the sanitary can law, will probably very soon give away to a more economical and effective plan, suggested to Council in a communication yesterday morning by Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health. The recommendations of the superintendent met with instant favor with members of Council, but action will not be asked until a later meeting of the body.

A change is made necessary in order to save the city from a steady deficit in this department and also in order to secure better results from a sanitary standpoint. The idea is to rigidly enforce the sanitary can ordinance in all parts of the city not reached by sewerage and do the work of hauling away the refuse in day time instead of at night as at present. The change from the night to day work will not only mean more efficient work but that the wagons can make two or more loads a day instead of one as at present. The sanitary work is done in day time in many other Southern cities. In Winston-Salem all the work is done in day time, regardless of whether the sanitary closet is used. It is planned to tax the property owners here $4 a year on each closet, thus insuring payment for the work, while at present there is a loss on collections of 33 1-3 per cent.

Dr. Nesbitt's communication, setting forth actual conditions under the present system, recommending a change and presenting strong argument why such should be made both from an economical and sanitary standpoint, is as follows:

"Sept. 24, 1912.

"To the Council of the City of Wilmington.

"Gentlemen:—The rapidly increasing deficit in the scavenging department of the sanitary work of the city necessitates immediate action on the part of the Council in the way of retrenchment in expense. Sufficient time has elapsed for this department to settle definitely through experience, the detailed method of dealing with this problem in such a way that the greatest good may be accomplished both from the sanitary standpoint and from the financial standpoint.

"It will be remembered that the plan presented to the Council in June of 1911, when the sanitary closet ordinance was first passed, included as a basic factor the universal enforcement of the sanitary closet ordinance, the use of a standard receptacle and the handling of the scavenging work in these receptacles in the day time as is done in other Southern cities. The monetary loss sustained by the city in the scavenger work has been due solely to the failure to carry out the original plan in all its details.

"Instead of the universal use of the standard receptacle we have had and have now a large number of closets equipped with receptacles which are not portable, which cannot be kept clean, and which do not carry out the spirit of the sanitary closet ordinance. This condition has created the necessity for procuring extra equipment which will handle material from these closets in the same manner that the material from the ordinary surface closet is handled.

"Instead of the universal use of the sanitary closet we have still in the City of Wilmington more than 3,000 of the old-fashioned disease-breeding surface closets, the dangers from which have been conclusively demonstrated by our own local experience in dealing with typhoid fever. The existence of these closets has made it absolutely necessary for the City of Wilmington to violate the regulations of the County Board of Health as well as the sanitary laws by removing night soil from the city to another point in the county, thereby distributing the pollution of the soil over a large area. The existence of these surface closets necessitated the provision of additional equipment and the employment of additional men to do the work, thereby greatly increasing the necessary expense. Another problem in connection with the disposal of refuse from the ordinary surface closet is its dry state and a large quantity of sand and earth which is taken when the closet is cleaned. This material cannot be disposed of by liquification in a tank and subsequent flushing into the river because of its density. Neither can it be dumped directly into the river or into a flowing stream without speedily accumulating a large deposit of solid material which will in itself defeat the purpose pursued.

"Our experience with the surface closet shows that when the closets are thoroughly cleaned, one cart can serve but from 20 to 25 closets each night. The revenue from each cart at 25 cents per closet is $5 or $6. The expense of each cart per night counting the maintenance of the team and labor hire is $4.50. Our experience shows that we must figure on a loss of 33 1-3 per cent in collections. If the cart earns $6 in a night and $4.50 is expended in expense and $2 is lost in collection the basis of an increasing deficit is clearly demonstrated.

"If the sanitary closet law was rigidly enforced throughout the city, and if each sanitary closet was equipped with the standard receptacle which is now in use in more than 2,000 closets in the city, and if the handling of these receptacles could be done in the day time as in other Southern cities the following results would be obtained.

"Our wagons are constructed to hold 22 sanitary cans each, 16 inches high and 15 inches in diameter. The revenue from one load is therefore $4.40 at the present rate of 20 cents for each can. If the work were done in the day time three or four loads of cans could be handled by each wagon. At the rate of three loads per day 66 closets could be served by each of these wagons with a gross earning of $14.20 for each wagon. The operating expenses remaining the same as at present each wagon would earn for the city $9.70 each day. This profit would enable the city after wiping out the existing deficit to reduce the cost of scavenging to the citizens and to secure more frequent cleanings. This would be obviously impossible unless the loss of 33 1-3 per cent in collection could be avoided by making the property owner directly responsible for the scavenger bill by means of a license tax as proposed in the original plan.

"The deficit in the scavenger department as reported by the city treasurer on September 1st, was $6,436.34. This amount includes the cost of erecting stables, establishment of the flush station and its connections at the foot of Hall street, the purchase of all necessary wagons, team and harness, lining all wagons and carts with zinc, the hire of extra horses which has been frequently necessary, the removal of the stables from the foot of Hall street to the foot of Greenfield street, and the erection of a large concrete retention basin, the iron tanks for flushing same, and the sewer to connect it with the river which was done at the foot of Greenfield street. Our experience in this work proves to us that it will be utterly impossible to wipe out this deficit under the present plan of doing the scavenger service. Inasmuch as at this time the scavengers are allowed to work only between midnight and 6 A. M., but one load can be handled by each cart and wagon. Working in the darkness of night and without immediate supervision the scavengers are unable to handle the sanitary cans in a cleanly and speedy manner. Accidents frequently occur and as the scavengers are unobserved they do not exercise the same care as would be necessary if they were working in the daylight. These reasons have led other cities in the South to inaugurate the daylight scavenging and all agree that it is the only successful manner in which the work can be done with a minimum of offense.

"The retention basin at the foot of Greenfield street provides ample facilities for handling the contents of the sanitary can without offense or danger. It is absolutely impossible to dispose of refuse from surface closets in a sanitary manner and in conformity with the law.

"The financial aspect of the scavenging service demands an immediate change for the sake of economy; therefore, I would most respectfully recommend that a period of 60 days be fixed by ordinance during which time the citizens of Wilmington shall install sanitary closets in conformity with the law throughout the entire city save in that portion served by the sewer, and that each of these sanitary closets shall be supplied with the standard receptacle such as is now in use in more than 2,000 closets in this city. I would further recommend that a forfeiture penalty of $5 per day for each day beyond the limit set that each closet exists in this city which does not comply with the above requirements. I would also recommend that a license tax of not less than $4 a year be imposed upon each such sanitary closet and that the scavenger work for these closets be furnished from the fund thus created and the owners of all property be held responsible for the payment of this tax. I would say in this connection that I have consulted the leading real estate men of the city and these agree that the above plan is the only one from which success may be expected in the solution of this problem.

"Respectfully submitted,
"CHAS. T. NEBITT,
"Supt. of Health."

The Recorder's Court

The Recorder had only a few cases to claim his attention yesterday. The case against Julius Hill, colored, charged with shooting Hattie Haywood, colored, Tuesday morning, was continued until Friday and the defendant was committed to jail in default of $500 bond. William Lee, colored, charged with assault with deadly weapon on Howard Waters, colored, whom he is alleged to have hit with an iron bucket as the result of a discussion on religious matters, was committed to jail in default of $1,000 bond to await hearing Saturday. John Payne, colored, paid the costs for violating the driving ordinance. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in a case against Arthur Cherry, colored, charged with abandonment and non-support on condition that the defendant provide support for his wife, which he agreed to do.

Inquires About Her Mother

Mayor Joseph D. Smith has received from a negress, Susan Lukes, at Jacksonville, Fla., a letter asking that he aid her in finding her mother, who is supposed to be living in Wilmington. The woman says that she was sold as a slave when she was 12 years old and has not lived here since that time. Her mother was named Charlotte and her husband was Hardy Williams. Her mother, she says, used to belong to Mr. Geo. Pollock. Her father formerly worked at a still yard in Wilmington.

OPENING OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Next Monday Week the Date—New Principal of Bear Memorial School—Meeting of Teachers Announced.

As previously announced by the committee all the public schools of Wilmington will open for the Fall term on Monday week and it is expected that the various institutions will open under much more favorable auspices than for any year in a long time. Superintendent John J. Blair is at his old home in High Point, but is expected within a short time to get everything in readiness for the opening.

The Fall term this year will be featured by the opening of the handsome new Bear Memorial Building, at 13th and Market streets, which will provide ample accommodations, it is thought, for the increased attendance in all the schools. The committee of the two districts has been exceedingly fortunate in securing as principal of this school Miss Julia H. Hill, for a number of years in charge of one of the advanced grades in the Union School. Miss Hill is eminently qualified for the new and larger duties to which she has been called and it is certain that under her administration of affairs the Bear Memorial will prove the equal of any school in the city.

Superintendent Blair has sent from High Point the following announcements with reference to the opening of the schools:

"As officially announced by the committees a few weeks ago, all the city schools of Wilmington will open in accordance with the 'Rules and Regulations,' the first Monday in October, this being Monday, the 7th day of the month.

"The attention of patrons is called to the law requiring that all new pupils present a certificate of successful vaccination upon entrance to any of the schools.

"The teachers will meet for a conference in their respective buildings at 11 o'clock on Saturday, October 5th.

"Pupils who expect to enter the different schools for the first time will report on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock for classification. Examinations for admission to the High School will be held on Friday morning at the same hour.

"All the buildings have been put in readiness for the opening and it is desired that every pupil in the city who expects to attend school presents himself for enrollment the first day.

"A conference of the principals from the High School, Union, Hemenway and Isaac Bear Memorial will be held at the office of the superintendent on Friday, October 4th, at 11 o'clock.

"JOHN J. BLAIR, Supt."

Uncertain About Court Today.

Whether Superior Court will begin here this morning or not will depend upon the jury in the Holly case on trial at Burgaw. If a verdict is received today Judge Carter will come to Wilmington and open court, but if he does not arrive before sunset it is said that according to statute court will have to be adjourned for the term. In the event the jury reaches a verdict up in the day, Judges Carter will likely be brought to Wilmington by automobile. Defendants and witnesses were notified some days ago to appear today.

THE WILSON CAMPAIGN FUND

Mr. Hugh MacRae, Secretary of State Finance Committee, Returns and Is Anxious for Wilmington To Do Her Part

Mr. Hugh MacRae, secretary of the finance committee of the Wilson and Marshall Campaign Fund in this State, returned this week from the recent meeting of the committee in Raleigh and is enthusiastic in the belief that while Wilmington thus far has been rather backward in her contributions to this fund, that in the end it will be found that the city of Woodrow Wilson's boyhood days, will do her full share and more.

Mr. MacRae since his return has conferred with a number of the leading business and professional men relative to the part that Wilmington should play in financing the campaign of one of her "favorite sons" and yesterday in speaking of the encouragement which he had received, was full of enthusiasm over the outlook. Thus far the efforts in behalf of this fund have been rather divided, but with the return of Mr. MacRae, as secretary of the State Finance Committee, all contributions may now be centered through this one channel and it may confidently be predicted that within a week or ten days at most, the impress of Wilmington's favoritism for Woodrow Wilson will be felt both in the New York and Chicago headquarters. Several large contributions have been made and will be announced later. Many new small ones have also been made and when the next totals are announced, Wilmington people may well feel proud of what this city has done.

This is recognized by all as a battle for the people against the interests and the people as a whole have responded generously. But Wilmington has lagged behind until now and now it is proposed to begin an awakening which will appeal to everyone. The Star through its efforts has secured small subscriptions of $30 from time to time and the local Woodrow Wilson Club has done much better, while some of the banks have also helped, but now it is proposed to inaugurate a general movement in which all efforts will be concentrated. Strange to say the large bulk of the subscriptions received by The Star have come from small amounts principally outside of Wilmington, the last of these being from Mr. E. Maury Fry, who was passing through the city en route to Southport, and could not resist the opportunity to contribute something towards the campaign of the people's candidate. All these contributions have now been acknowledged and amounts forwarded through the proper channels.

Further announcement of plans and purposes will be made later.

Change In Schedule

The Tidewater Power Company has decided to continue through Saturday the early morning trip from the beach, this car leaving the beach at 6:05 A. M. After next Saturday the trip will be discontinued, and as the trip is to be discontinued so soon, the leaving time of this car will not be shown in the regular schedule published in today's paper. A slight change in the regular schedule is also announced, this change being in the leaving time of the first trip from Wrightsville in the morning. The leaving time from Wrightsville of this car has been changed from 6:20 to 6:15 A. M., and the leaving time from Winter Park from 6:32 to 6:27 A. M.

REVIVAL AT BROOKLYN CHURCH

Rev. J. W. Ham Will Assist the Pastor In Series of Meetings

A revival begins Sunday morning at Brooklyn Baptist church and the pastor, Rev. J. A. Sullivan, will be assisted by Rev. J. W. Ham, the noted evangelist. Mr. Ham was at one time pastor of a church at Newbern and is well-known in this city. He went from Newbern to Atlanta, Ga., where he assisted Rev. Dr. L. G. Broughton, the noted divine, who recently accepted a call to a large church in London. Mr. Ham has been doing evangelical work since that time and is a preacher of great power and eloquence. Large congregations will doubtless hear him in the series of meetings at Brooklyn church.

Mrs. Ham will assist her husband in the revival. She is a well known singer, having a voice of exceptional sweetness. During the series she will be heard often in solo work. Music will be a big feature of the meeting and a large chorus choir is now in training at the church.

HOLLY CASE TO THE JURY

Argument Completed Yesterday Evening With Judge Carter's Charge at Night—One of Three Verdicts is Possible.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Burgaw, N. C., Sept. 25.—Judge Carter having completed his charge of an hour at 9 o'clock tonight, the case of J. C. Holly, of New Hanover, charged with the murder of his ward, young Edward Cromwell, who perished in the Rock Springs hotel fire in Wilmington two years ago, was given to the jury at that hour in Pender Superior Court here, and within a short time it is expected that the fate of the defendant will be known.

His Honor's charge to the jury came after supper this evening, after an all day of argument during which every point was contested to the last ditch. Attorneys for the defense had expected that Judge Carter would charge the jury that they must bring in a verdict either for acquittal or murder in the first degree, but His Honor sprung a surprise on all the attendants upon the session, when he charged that the jury could find either of three verdicts: murder in the first degree; murder in the second degree, or acquittal. It is now the general opinion that this latitude having been allowed by His Honor, it is not improbable that a second degree verdict will be the result. At any rate, the charge of His Honor is construed to mean that, in their discretion, members of the jury will have the basis of a compromise, which may be effected in view of any very material disagreement at first.

Yesterday's sessions of the court were without special incident. Argument was begun promptly at 9:30 o'clock. Each side was allowed three hours for speeches and D. H. Bland, Esq., of Bland & Bland, of Burgaw, opened for the State. His presentation of the case is spoken of in the highest terms by those in attendance upon the early morning session. Mr. Bland was followed by William J. Bellamy, Esq., of counsel for the defense, who made a remarkably strong presentation of the cause of his client. J. T. Bland, Esq., of Burgaw, senior member of the firm of Bland & Bland, spoke last before dinner for the State and presented the cause of the commonwealth in its strongest possible light. After dinner, when court reconvened, C. D. Weeks, Esq., closed for the defense in a powerful plea for the prisoner and a remarkable presentation of the doctrine of reasonable doubt. None in the court room but agreed that the defense had every point in its favor presented in a masterly way upon the conclusion of Mr. Weeks' appeal in behalf of the prisoner. Solicitor Shaw closed for the State at 6:30 o'clock and Judge Carter announced that a recess would be taken until 8 o'clock when he would give his instructions to the jury.

The charge was an hour in length and was considered very able and impartial, though attorneys for the defense frankly confessed their disappointment that the issue was not clearly drawn between first degree murder and acquittal, being confident of the freedom of their client. As soon as the jury retired there was much speculation as to the probability of a verdict during the night. Some expected that an agreement would be early reached while others were of the opinion that the 12 men were so divided that it would be at least morning before a conclusion would be reached.

Judge Carter, who is to hold New Hanover Superior Court for the remainder of the week, announced tonight that he would convene court tomorrow morning at 7:45 o'clock and if by that time an agreement had been reached by the jury, he would go at once to Wilmington and convene the court there at 10 o'clock. However, Judge Carter hardly expected an agreement so early and has intimated that the jury will be kept together until Monday unless some agreement is reached.

At 12:30 o'clock this morning the jury was still out, with no indication of how near an agreement has been reached. A verdict is hardly expected now before some time later in the day.

REPAIRING THE TRACK.

Trains May Run Through to Newbern Today After Washout.

Persons arriving in the city yesterday from up the Newbern road stated that a large force of hands was engaged in repairing the damage done by the washout between Verona and Jacksonville Tuesday and that it was hoped to have trains running through by today. The water had receded and in places the sand had washed from under the rails and cross-ties to a depth of five or six feet. Passengers were transferred at the scene of the washout and had to walk nearly a half mile from one side to the other. The train due here about 1 P. M. yesterday arrived only three hours late. Persons who passed the scene of Tuesday's wreck said that had the train run on only a short distance farther the entire train would have been derailed and possibly all on board would have been killed or seriously injured.

Reward for Army Deserter.

Bullard, of the Wilmington police department, yesterday received check for $50 from the officer in command of Fort Caswell, this representing the standing reward offered for deserters from United States army posts. He was sent to Fort Caswell, the nearest army post, as is required.

Vaughn stated that he was afraid the people in Greenville would attempt to do him bodily harm so the sheriff took him to Columbia, where the State penitentiary is located.

..Theatrical..

A happy good-looking fellow is Bert Leigh, and he is an actor with it as he proved to the local theatre-goers last night when he played "Kid" Burns in a magnificent production of "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway," at the Academy. A real play, tunefully blended with catchy music. Mr. Leigh was the star of the show, but his support did not fall short, for they were all good. Miss Burgess, as "Mary," is pretty and very clever. Mr. Roquemore, as "The Millionaire," won recognition in his part, for he can act as well, and the chorus was good-looking and their numbers showed careful training. The scenery was handsome and the costumes fresh and in keeping with the production. "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway," was one of the best offering at the Academy this season.

"The Traveling Salesman"

One of the most delightful plays dealing with a phase of American life and character, 'The Traveling Salesman," by James Forbes, author of the slang classic, "The Chorus Lady" and "The Commuters," will be shown at the Acadamey tomorrow night.

The play comes from long runs in New York and Chicago. The locale of the play is Grand Crossing, a Middle Western village. The story opens on Christmas Day, and in the first act is shown the interior of the railway station, where Bob Blake, the traveling salesman, and Beth Elliott, the pretty ticket agent, meet and are spedily attracted to each other.

Beth owns a plot of seemingly worthless land, that suddenly acquires value because it is necessary to a scheme of improvement planned by the railroad company. Blake's employer becomes cognizant of the corporation's plans through a "leak" at headquarters, and attempts to defraud the girl of her property by a perversion of the laws governing the sale of lands for taxes. It is Blake's aim to frustrate the scheme and the predicament in which he finds himself through his impetuous and misguiding efforts, supplies the necessary dramatic thread of the comedy, which aims chiefly at a humorous exposition of the characteristics of the present-day drummer.

The second act, which takes place in Blake's room in the Elite Hotel, is said to be as novel in its depiction of "life on the road" as was the second act of "The Chorus Lady" in illustrating "life behind the scenes."

Included in the company which will appear here are many artists who are well-known to playgoers. The leading comedy role, Bob Blake, will be interpreted by Robt. Lee Allen, an actor of much ability and prominence in light comedy characters, and the leading lady is Rosalind Randolph, a charming and capable actress.

Seats went on sale at Plummer's this morning.

Another Big Day at The Grand

The Grand Theatre is steadily growing in popularity with amusement lovers of Wilmington and despite the counter attraction yesterday, it did good business all the way through. The Grand Theatre fits a pleasing little niche in the hearts and affections of theatre-goers and hardly a day passes but that familiar faces show up, indicating that as a lasting proposition the Grand has no equal.

This is not all by chance. The efforts of the management to please each and every patron is bound to tell in the end and it is doing so in most happy manner just at the present time. Mr. Leonard Chick, who has been ill for several days, is again on the boards at the Grand—an announcement that will be hailed with pleasure. His song for today will be, "Oh, Mr. Dream Man, Please Let Me Dream Some More." This will be very catchy and fetching and will prove a winner. In the moveys, there is going to be something especially attractive and pleasing. "A Love Story of Old Japan" is a Pathe of remarkable clarity and deep emotion. Almond Blossom, a pretty Japanese dancer, is loved by a nobleman and the romance in their lives proves most strikingly interesting and amusing.

Then the comedy feature of the bill has not been neglected and Grand patrons are to have the first presentation of an Essanay, "The Love Test." It is a thoroughly enjoyable comedy, humorous in plot and laughingly portrayed by Essanay's famous fun-makers.

Then a third film and all, mind you, with the pleasing and realistic effects, will be offered, so that the Grand will be the most popular place in the burg again today.

Solid Week of Musical Comedy.

All next week the Academy will offer a merry and decidedly out-of-the-ordinary attraction. It will really be phenomenal, when the prices are taken into consideration. The attraction will be a full fledged musical comedy company, presenting the latest music shows and doing so in stylish, elaborate manner, and all for 10, 20 and 30 cents. This is the exceptional part of it, and will cause a furore among Wilmington theatre-goers. The musical comedy company was booked by Manager Marx Nathan, during his recent trip to New York, and the organization will come direct from Gotham to Wilmington, in time to open up the engagement Monday night, presenting at that time the jolly musical show, "Hurly Burly," which is a laugh from start to finish, save for the times novel musical numbers and vaudeville acts are introduced, and there are many of such. The company has a number of well known artists in its ranks, including Elizabeth Rowena, the popular prima donna, who has appeared in grand as well as light opera; the Bernard Sisters, the cleverest dancing duo before the public; Al Watson, noted Hebrew comedian and who the past several seasons was associated with the Weber and Fields shows; McDonald and Treat, dancers, and Mills and Bernard, German comedians. In addition the company carries a Broadway Beauty chorus, so as to make each performance a finished one. Special electrical effects will be used at each production, and a rare treat will be dished out to every one. The scale of prices is the most remarkable of all. Seats for Monday night will be on sale Saturday morning at Plummer's.

The young man has a sister living, but has no relatives in this city. He was affiliated with the Jr. O. U. A. M., being a member of Jeff Davis Council, No. 63, of this city. Mr. Parker's former home is at Aaron, Fla. The funeral will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon at Oakdale cemetery and as will be seen by notice elsewhere in today's paper, members of Jeff Davis Council are called to attend the services in a body.

BLOODHOUND'S TRAIN.

Tracked Criminal for Thirty-Two Miles at South Mills.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Sept. 24.—J. W. Shores with his famous bloodhound, Annie Oakley, responded to a call from Deputy Sheriff J. W. Taylor, of South Mills, Sunday, to assist in capturing a negro named Philip Miller, who had cut and dangerously wounded another negro, Willie Murray, and made good his escape.

They tracked him to North West and found that he had returned to Moyack. At 3 o'clock Monday morning they succeeded in arresting him at the home of his brother in Brown Mills, making a trail of 32 miles in all.

Miller was lodged in the Camden county jail, while the victim of the assault has a slim chance for recovery.

The negro told Mr. Taylor that he thought he was out of reach. Mr. Taylor answered that it is impossible to escape Mr. Shores, even if he had traveled 100 miles, who with his famous dog and the Stokes automobile is ever ready to respond to all calls of this nature.

Specific Blood Poison

Specific Blood Poison is the most insidious of all diseases. It begins usually by a tiny sore which is the only outward evidence of its presence. But down in the blood the treacherous poison is at work and in a short time its chain of symptoms begin to crop out. The mouth and throat ulcerate, skin eruptions break out, sores and ulcers appear on the body, the glands in the groin swell, and sometimes the hair comes out. Mineral medicines cannot cure Specific Blood Poison; they only shut the disease up in the system to smolder and await an opportunity of breaking out afresh. The only possible way to cure the disease is to remove the germs from the blood. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes the last trace of the infectious virus, tones up the stomach, bowels, kidneys and all portions of the system, and thus makes a perfect and lasting cure. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks; it does not contain a particle of mineral or other harmful drug. Thousands have cured themselves of Specific Blood Poison by the use of S.S.S. It will cure you if you will give it a trial. Special Home Treatment book and any medical advice free.

COTTON LOSES EARLY GAIN

Cold Weather News Causes Advance, But the Improvement Was Not Maintained—Close Steady About Unchanged.

New York, Sept. 25.—Cold weather news from the Southwest caused an early advance in the cotton market today, but the improvement was not fully maintained, and the close was barely steady, net three points lower to four points higher, near positions being relatively easy. The opening was steady, at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 2 points, and the market sold 4 to 8 points net higher during the early trading on covering of shorts, moderate trade buying and local bull support. The early weather news showed no actual killing frost in the Western belt, but temperatures were unseasonably low, with prospects pointing to still colder weather, and the Eastern belt forecast was for frosts tonight in North Texas, Oklahoma and the Northern part of Arkansas. This was supposed to account for the early strength, but the advance to 11.62 for December or about 18 points above the low level of yesterday morning attracted a good deal of realising and the market soon became unsettled.

Private cables reporting a threat of labor troubles in Manchester and private predictions that tonight's cold snap would be followed by warmer weather in the South tomorrow, combined with the failure of the cold weather news to bring in any general buying movement no doubt increased the disposition of old longs to take profits. Conflicting rumors as to the probable showing of the National Ginners' report added to the confusion of sentiment and the market during the middle of the day was very nervous and irregular. Later scattering liquidation and spot house selling became more active and the close was within a point of the lowest on the near months.

Spot closed quiet. Middling uplands, 11.75; middling gulf, 12.00; no sales.

Cotton futures closed barely steady.

CALL MONEY TO 7 PER CENT

Advance Was Feature of Stock Market and Caused a Great Flurry —Many Issues Manifested Great Activity

New York, Sept. 25.—The feature of the day on the stock exchange was an advance in call money to 7 per cent., the highest rate of the year. The rise occurred just before the close, after a number of issues, including some representative stocks had recorded their best prices of the year. Among these were the Harriman shares, United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper. The sudden flurry came in the midst of a degree of activity greater than the market has recently shown.

Dealings in the first hour aggregated over 250,000 shares and the day's total output approximated 800,000 shares.

Some justification for the money flurry was found in the condition of the local banks. These institutions have lost cash steadily on the week, the drain since last Friday amounting to over $5,500,000. In addition, the sub-treasury today had a credit of almost $1,000,000 at the clearing house. The loss of cash is partly offset by gold imports, of which a little more than $1,000,000 was received today. From present indications, however, the week end may show a cash loss great enough to wipe out the meagre reserves. Recent activity in stocks will also figure importantly in the loan account.

Industrials and metal stocks were most conspicuous in the day's business.

Bonds were active and firm. Total sales, par value, $3,213,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales, 798,900 shares.

HEALTH LAWS NEEDED

Dr. Stiles Declares It Is More Important Than Immigration

Washington, Sept. 25.—Rather than immigration the United States needs laws to improve the health of the country to furnish the workers required in the country's expanding industries, asserted Dr. Charles W. Stiles, of the United States Public Health Service, in an address today before the 15th International Congress on Hygiene and Demography. Better health conditions, he said, would permit sufficient natural increase of the population to provide all needs.

Germany is building up a greater health reserve among its working men than any other country, because of the successful application of the principles of workingmen's insurance, declared Dr. Frederick Zahn, Munich, Germany, in an address tonight. The foundation of every far-sighted social policy, he said, must be based more on energy reserve than on money reserve. An investment in workingmen's insurance, he said, "is a preliminary necessary to securing an increase in commercial productivity."

The declaration that it is impossible to rid a zone of yellow fever and that the disease is found now in the Panama Canal zone, made by Dr. Harald Seidlin, of Liverpool, England, was denied by Dr. A. J. Orenstein, of the Sanitary Department of the Canal zone, and by several other American medical officers. Former Surgeon General Sternberg and others expressed doubts as to the merit of Dr. Seidlin's statement, that there is a specific parasite of yellow fever. Dr. Seidlin claimed to have discovered the hitherto unknown parasite.

Officers of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents are taking much interest in the proceedings of the congress and representatives of the organization are attending most of the various sections.

A report and recommendations will be made to the next annual meeting of the association based on new information in regard to the life and statistical ideas gathered here.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Varsity Line

You have no idea—can't have unless you see them—how far in advance of all other "young men's styles" these are. The fashions are lively, snappy, stunning; the fabrics are chosen for young tastes in color and pattern; but one important point is—the cloths are all-wool; and the tailoring is such that the clothes keep shape. CHEERING THRONGS GREET GOV. WILSON nor Wilson spoke in this city, at Stamford, at Meriden and other places Upon his arrival here at 1:30 o'clock today, Governor Wilson was met by a committee and welcomed to the city. There was a short parade ending at a local theatre where Governor Wilson made an address.

At Meriden Congressman Thomas L. Reilly introduced Governor Wilson as "the next President."

"I am sure that you believe everything that Mr. Reilly says in this community, where you know him so well," said Governor Wilson. "Therefore, I will take his word for it that I am going to be the next President of the United States—but not without your assistance—for it will be necessary if that event is to be celebrated. And I want to say very frankly that I do not want you to take part in it unless you actually believe in it—unless you actually believe that the Democratic party stands for bringing the government back to the people themselves, because that is the only safe thing for every member of the community; we cannot afford to let some people play the game that all of us ought to play in order to control the government."

Governor Wilson in his speech in this city defined "Progressiveism." "I am a Progressive," he said, "because we have not kept up with changes in economic or political fields. We have not adjusted our practices with the facts of the case."

Taking the direct primary system as an illustration of progressive principles, the Governor held it forth as an example of a triumph over bi-partisan political machines. "I must say," remarked the Governor parenthically, "that after yesterday's result of the direct primary in New Jersey I am reassured as to its operation."

Then the Governor took up the question of election of United States Senators. He said he had the greatest respect for the United States Senate as a body and that the majority of the Senate "vindicated the self-respect and hope of the American people."

Nevertheless, he added, there had been questionable practices in the election of United States Senators and that a small group of men had held the balance of power in the Senate, supported by private influences.

NELLIE BUSBEE SUICIDES.

Keeper of Illegal Resort Takes Own Life When Place is Closed.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 25.—As a result of orders of the chief of police closing all illegal resorts within five days, the outcome of the Men and Religion Forward Movement in this city, Nellie Busbee, keeper of a resort, committed suicide today by plunging a dagger through her heart. She left a note saying her house had been closed and there was nothing left for her in life. It was announced tonight that $10,000 is ready for instant disposal by the Men and Religion Forward Movement for caring for those women from the resorts who desire to reform and lead honest lives. Ministers and other charitable workers will visit the segregated district tomorrow, it is said, to extend aid to those caring to take advantage of it.

Two girls giving their names as Frances Willard and Margaret Hansell, and their homes as Asheville, N. C., were arrested early today and are said to have given the police valuable information concerning alleged disorderly establishments throughout the city. The girls came here recently with a musical show which became stranded two days after their arrival in Atlanta.

NO NEWS FROM HAITI

Rebels Cut Cable to San Domingo—Marines to Sail

Washington, Sept. 25.—Washington received no news fro mthe the Dominican Republic today on account of the cutting of cables by the rebels. Preparations went forward actively for the sailing of the transport Prairie from Philadelphia with the 750 marines, who are to compel the re-opening of Dominican custom houses along the border of Haiti. Practically all of the men who will make up the expedition are now on their way from their respective posts along the Atlantic coast.

Dominican Minister Peynado expressed the belief that the rebels would allow the custom houses to be re-opened as soon as they heard of the coming of the American marines, and that it would not be necessary for the expedition to disembark. He said the revolution against his government was confined to the Haitien border and was carried on by small bands of about 50 men.

A letter received here today described Dominican conditions as bad and especially serious at Puerto Plata and on the north and east coasts, where much promiscuous shooting and general lawlessness is reported.

KAVANAUGH RE-ELECTED.

St. Louis Man Selected as President of Waterways Association.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 25.—William K. Kavanaugh, of St. Louis, was re-elected president of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterways Association at the annual election of officers today. Although Mr. Kavanaugh was prevented by illness from attending the convention, no one else was considered for the presidency. A board of governors with one member from each State directly interested in the proposed waterway, also was elected.

Isham Randolph, of Chicago, consulting engineer for the Chicago drainage district, was the principal speaker at the afternoon session. He declared the deep waterway project practical from an engineering standpoint.

ON BILLS OF LADING.

Charles S. Haight Reports to Chambers of Commerce Congress.

Boston, Sept. 25.—In his report before the Fifth International Congresses of Chambers of Commerce and of Commercial and Industrial Associations on through bills of lading, Chas. S. Haight declared that the importance of such bills of lading could hardly be over-exaggerated, and gave as an example of the importance of new legislation the enormous amount of exporting now carried on between the 34 leading commercial countries of the world. These countries, Mr. Haight estimated as exporting at the rate of $2,500,000 worth of merchandise per month, or about $57,000 per minute.

The two essentials of a bill of lading, Mr. Haight declared, were: (1) that it must be binding upon the carrier whose agent has issued it, whether the goods have been received or not, after it has passed into the hands of an innocent purchaser; (2) it must be protected against forgery.

Continuing, Mr. Haight said:

"Probably every one will agree that good paper money must fulfill at least two requirements: it must be issued by a bank or a government which is abundantly responsible, and it must be safeguarded in every possible way against the counterfeiter. If a Bank of England note, or one of our own gold certificates, were printed on ordinary paper, without water-mark, colortint or other protective device, so that the merest bungler could counterfeit it with absolute impunity, it would be practically worthless as money.

"The same thing is true of order notify bills of lading."

Mr. Haight then quoted from the findings of Prof. Samuel Willison, of the Harvard Law School, who made an exhaustive examination of the bills of lading laws of foreign countries. Prof. Willison found, "That the carrier is liable on a bill of lading issued where no goods have been received," and he adds that it may be safely asserted that this rule is the law prevailing outside the English-speaking nations."

"It is therefore, in Great Britain and her colonies," Mr. Haight said, "and the United States alone, that legislation is necessary to produce the first requirement of a safe bill of lading.

"For the protection of our own people and the preservation of our credit in foreign trade, I urge upon Congress the immediate enactment of a law under which one who, in good faith, advances money or credit upon a bill of lading issued by a common carrier upon an inter-State or foreign shipment can hold the carrier liable for the value of the goods described in the bill at the valuation specified in the bill, at least to the extent of the advances made in reliance upon it. Such liability exists under the laws of many of the States.

"As the result of the general demand for reform, Congress now has before it, in one house or the other, five different measures intended to improve the situation. The Adamson bill contains one provision which seeks a remedy in a startling way: Section 4, of that measure makes it unlawful for any bank or any officer or agent thereof which 'first takes, accepts or discounts any bill of lading' to accept a bill of lading as security for an advance 'without first ascertaining by actual inquiry and investigation that the goods have been shipped. A fine of $5,000 is imposed on any bank violating the provision, and upon the bank's officer or agent a similar fine, five years' imprisonment, or both.

"Oddly enough, only two of the five bills offered, the Pomerene bill and the bill reported by the Senate Committee on Inter-State Commerce, apply directly to commerce between the United States and foreign countries. It is hardly conceivable, however, that the bill which ultimately passes will not cover foreign shipments.

"Of the various bills offered, the Pomerene bill, in its amended form, is undoubtedly the best, and is frankly preferred by a majority of the Senate Committee on Inter-State Commerce, to which it was referred."

In conclusion Mr. Haight praised the plan of the Cotton Bills of Lading Central Bureau in New York, by which, he said, shippers and buyers were protected from forgery through the filing of cotton bills of lading forwarded to the bureau by the railroads.

ELIHU ROOT DECLINES.

Says He Couldn't Accept N. Y. Nomination—Convention Opens.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 25.—United States Senator Elihu Root was asked tonight if he would accept the nomination for Governor by the Republican State Convention, now in session here, but replied that his name must not be considered.

The suggestion that he be made the nominee was put forward by several of the party leaders, who had futilely endeavored to draft a tentative State ticket acceptable to the majority of the delegates. The delegates tonight were still casting about trying to find the strongest man for party standard bearer.

After the convention had held its first session, during which Temporary Chairman William D. Guthrie, of New York had sounded the keynote speech and the resolutions and permanent organization committee had been appointed, adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning and the two committees went to work, leaving the delegates free to engage themselves in consideration of the State ticket.

State Chairman Barnes reiterated tonight that it was a situation for the delegates to solve; that he knew of no tentative slates and that the slate-making condition was much the same as it was yesterday.

MILITARY CO. ATTACKED.

Large Forces Fire on First Infantry in West Virginia.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 25.—Report reached here tonight from the military headquarters at Paint Creek Junction that a large force had attacked the outposts of Company I, First Infantry, near Keeferton, Fayette county, which is within the martial law zone. It is also reported that several of the attacking force had been injured, but that the militia escaped harm. Lieut. Bell, in command of the company, was reinforced and pursued the attackers over the mountain. Major James I. Pratt, in charge of that district, sent a train with one company from Paint Creek Junction to the scene, a distance of 20 miles. As the wires were cut immediately after the report of the shooting was received at headquarters, no further information can be had until the special train returns.

the result, Governor?"

"The moral is that the bosses can't rule in New Jersey."

"Will you do the same thing in New York State as you did in New Jersey?"

"My dear boy," said the Governor, turning on the interviewer, "I am as green as I look."

Newark, N. J., Sept. 25.—William Hughes, whose candidacy for nomination by the Democrats for United States Senator was favored by Governor Wilson, won over James Smith, Jr., who was strongly opposed by the Governor, by about 16,000 votes, according to the latest returns received tonight from yesterday's primaries. Tonight's figures indicated that Essex, Mr. Smith's home county, was the only one of 21 counties in the State which went against the Governor's choice.

DOINGS AT A. & M.

First Dance—Wilmington Boys Take Prominent Stand—Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 25.—Saturday night the social season at A. & M. was inaugurated when the Thalarian German Club gave its first dance, in Pullen Hall. This was the regular September dance, and there were about 25 couples present. The figures were gracefully led by Mr. C. H. Anthony, the club leader, dancing with Miss Elizabeth Johnson.

There was a general call for candidates for the Glee Club Thursday night and it is hoped that with the large number of good voices in college, a good club can be organized, such as the one here several years ago. For the past three years there has been no club at A. & M. owing to the failure of the men to "get together," but last year one was organized, during the last part of the season, and it is hoped that this year it will be put on a strong footing.

At the first meeting of the Senior Class, J. O. Rankin, of Gastonia, was elected business manager of the 1913 Agromeck, to succeed J. B. Coward, who did not return to college on account of bad health. C. G. Hall, of Wilmington, was elected assistant business manager.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association Saturday afternoon, C. F. Gore, of Wilmington, was elected vice president of the association to succeed J. I. McCullum, of Charlotte, who was forced to give up his work at college on account of his eyes. L. C. Hand, of Chadbourn, was elected manager of the track team to succeed L. L. Merritt, of Wilmington, who resigned on account of having so much other work.

The Tompkins Textile Society had its first meeting Tuesday night in the shape of an entertainment by Prof. and Mrs. Thos. Nelson, which was greatly enjoyed by all who attended. After the meeting refreshments were served.

THE ULSTER CAMPAIGN.

Takes on Militant Attitude—Protest Against Home Rule.

Portadown, Ireland, Sept. 25.—The Ulster campaign took on a militant attitude today when 20,000 Orangemen and Unionists assembled to register their protest against home rule. From the moment Sir Edward Carson, the Unionist leader, who came here from Belfast, alighted at the station, where he was received with a guard of honor, until the procession arrived at the grounds, where the chief demonstration was held, everything savored of military style and discipline.

It was not permissible to carry arms, so the Unionist clubmen bore dummy rifles, but handled them as though they were real. The whole display was proof that active drilling has been going on for some weeks.

The speeches at the demonstration, which was attended by Lord Londonderry, Sir John Lonsdale and other prominent Unionists, breathed a strong fighting spirit.

Belfast, Ireland, Sept. 25.—Regiments of Highland light infantry and Scottish borderers will be drafted into Belfast tomorrow morning in anticipation of trouble Saturday, Ulster Day, when the covenant in defiance of home rule is to be signed by Ulstermen. The Royal Irish Rifles, already stationed here, are confined to barracks in readiness for emergencies.

More than a thousand members of "Young Citizen Volunteers of Ireland" were enrolled tonight.

TYPHOON SWEEPS JAPAN.

Many Lives Lost and Great Damage Done to Shipping.

Tokio, Sept. 25.—A typhoon swept over Japar the night of September 22nd. There was much loss of life and heavy damage to property and shipping.

A torpedo boat and the destroyers Tachibana and Fubuki were sunk in Ise Bay.

Tokio has been completely isolated since September 22nd. The typhoon carried down all the telegraph lines. Even yet details are meagre. The most disastrous effects of the storm were felt along the south coast. At Yokahama the French armored cruiser Dupleix dragged her anchors and went ashore. She pulled off, however, the following day.

At Shimonoseki, a Russian mail boat foundered. The casualities are unknown.

The losses to shipping have been very serious. The Japanese battleship Satsuma and the tender Manshu were wrecked. Four destroyers and five torpedo boats were driven ashore.

There was a heavy loss of life at Nagoya, capital of the Prefecture of Aishi, Island of Hondo, where a school and other buildings collapsed.

Stuffy air stifles and stunts growth. To be happy in school—keep well aired.

The Men Who Succeed

as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half-alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at R. R. Bellamy's.

SAFE CRACKERS AT MORVEN

Store and Bank Robbed—Bloodhounds From Columbia, S. C.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 25.—News has just reached here of the robbery of a bank and store by safe crackers at Morven, N. C., early this morning. Upon request by telephone this morning the bloodhounds at the State penitentiary were rushed there. The town is about 70 miles from here, just over the border line. None of the details are known.

Wadesboro, N. C., Sept. 25.—News of a bold attempt last night at robbing the depot, the store of Northcutt & Braswell, the branch bank of the Southern Savings Bank and the postoffice comes from McFarlan this morning. The depot was entered through a window and the cash drawer broken open but no cash found. About three gallons of whiskey was taken and a suit of clothes left untouched. The store of Northcutt & Braswell was also entered and the cash drawer broken open. Finding no cash in it the robber or robbers broke open the cash register, but they were again disappointed. They then ransacked the postoffice, kept in the store, getting $4.71 belonging to Uncle Sam. The Southern Savings Bank of Wadesboro has a branch bank kept in this store and the counter drawers were opened but no cash was taken.

GIRL SMOKED 300 CIGARETTES.

Now Daughter of Wealthy Mine Owner is in Psycophatic Ward.

(Special to Baltimore Sun.)

New York, Sept. 24.—Having accomplished the feat of smoking 300 cigarettes in 24 hours, Miss Pauline McKenzie, pretty young daughter of a wealthy mine owner of Boulder, Colo., is in Bellevue Hospital undergoing treatment in the psycopathic ward.

She was taken to the hospital this afternoon after a policeman had found her making an incoherent speech to a crowd of men and boys from the steps of the Church of the Holy Name.

Miss McKenzie continued smoking all night long, so far as can be learned, and wandered away from the hotel early this morning.
